Strong-Arm Squads Begin Clean-Up Of Allegedly "Treacherous Elements"

BELIEVE BENES HELD PRISONER

By ROBERT HECKERT
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PRAGUE, Feb. 26.—The new Communist Czechoslovak government showed its strength by force today and strong-arm squads began a purge of allegedly "treacherous elements."

As the cleanup of suspected reactionaries started in plants, offices and factories, Communist leaders called out all branches of the national security corps to greet the new government.

They included mounted, food and motorized police and were ordered to assemble facing the Prague city hall at 5:30 p. m.

"To Express Gratitude"
They will march through the capital—in the words of an official announcement—"to give the population a chance to express its gratitude."

Festivals were arranged throughout the country. All public and private buildings were ordered to fly the national flag for three days as a sign of rejoicing.

Communist Premier Klement Gottwald's action squads went to work against "reactionaries" in both public and private life less than 24 hours after he and his followers seized government control.

In a broadcast from Prague, ABC Correspondent Palmer Hoyt, Jr., said that fears are expressed that President Benes is being held a "virtual prisoner" in the presidential castle.

He said that a scheduled broadcast by Benes to the Czech people again had been postponed, adding: Benes Virtual Prisoner

Pa News Observes

February 26, 1946. William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill" was born. Remember Buffalo Bill's show? Ever read of his great exploits?

Another sign that spring is just around the corner is the appearance of the tender shoots of early spring bloomers, which are starting to peep through the ground.

Next Monday will witness the advent of March, when according to tradition the way March comes in will forecast the weather for the month. "Come in like a lamb and go out like a lion" or vice versa the saying goes.

If this mild weather continues much longer, there will be real evidences of spring, weather observers declare. Some crop damage might result from a premature exhibit of spring at this time, it is feared.

Pa News has been asked the date that the bridge over the Beaver river at Newport was torn down. The structure was erected but never used, because the railroad tracks could not be crossed. Do you know when it was torn down? Dates which have been suggested in inquiries are around 1915, but this information is not definite. If you know when the structure was taken down, please inform Pa News.

School Board Starts Budget

Rough Draft Of Budget Indicates $1,725,000 Is Approximate Need

TEACHERS SALARY ISSUE PRESENTED

Meeting in special session on Wednesday night, the New Castle school board put together a tentative budget for the coming school year. After working until about 11:30 the board found itself with a "rough draft" budget for approximately $1,725,000.

A delegation of schools teachers headed by the PSEA chapter president, J. H. Earl MacKenzie appeared before the board and asked that the budget include a salary adjustment for the teachers in the public school system. Mr. MacKenzie cited the increased cost of living over a year ago and the fact that the salary act adopted by the General Assembly had provided but slight increases for many of the older teachers.

For the time being—and this is merely tentative—the board is working from a twenty mill tax levy. This is the same levy that has been in effect for two years and if adopted for the coming year would mean no increase in school taxes.

Find Three Bodies In Plane Wreckage

One Crewman Also Missing; Eight Ball Out Of Plane Safely

MERIDIAN, Tex., Feb. 26.—(INS)—Three bodies were found early today in the wreckage of a B-29 which crashed 12 miles west of Meridian during a heavy rain last night.

One crewman still was missing. Authorities at the scene believed his body might still be in the wreckage.

Eight of the 12 crewmen aboard parachuted to safety after the No. 4 engine caught fire.

Deputy sheriffs reported the huge bomber crashed into a hillside and exploded.

Identification of the victims was withheld by the plane's home base, Carswell Field at Fort Worth.

The plane was one of 20 flying from Carswell air base to Los Angeles and back on a training mission. A public relations officer said the plane was to have dropped bombs at Wilcox Dry Lake, 50 miles east of Tucson, Ariz.

Lamarre Starts His Testimony

Says Meyers Established War Contract Firm To Provide Retirement Income

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(INS)—Elmer Lamarre, alleged financial puppet of Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, testified today that Meyers established an Ohio war contract firm so he could have a "substantial income" when he retired from the army.

Lamarre, husband of the woman Meyers called his "girl friend," took the witness stand as a key prosecution witness in the retired general's trial for subornation of perjury.

Meyers is accused of inducing Lamarre, "dummy" president of Aviation Electric Corp., the firm from which the ex-air force procurement officer is declared to have netted $150,000 in war profit "kickbacks," to lie under oath.

Lamarre's appearance marked the first time the two have confronted each other since the 35-year-old alleged "stooge" in the general's complicated business operations called Meyers a "snake" at a senate hearing last fall.

The slim Ohioan took the stand after defense objections withheld from the jury letters written by his pretty brunette wife, Mildred. (Continued on Page Two)

British Explain Cruiser Dispatch

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(INS)—An authoritative British source asserted today that fear of "incidents which may be staged by certain irresponsible elements in Guatemala" is responsible for the dispatch of the cruiser Sheffield to British Honduras.

The Sheffield is now enroute from Cartagena, Colombia, to the Honduras port of Belize.

The disclosure of the British action highlighted a series of differences between Britain and South American states.

They began late last year when Chile and Argentina started a dispute over British claims to Antarctic territory and possession of the Shetland and Falkland Islands.

Marshall To Seek Increased Aid For Greece - Turkey

Seen As Secretary's Answer To Communist Coup In Czechoslovakia

MARSHALL TESTIFIES ON AID TO CHINA

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Secretary of State Marshall was ready today to answer the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia with a new 250 million dollar military aid program for Greece and Turkey.

Marshall himself was called to testify behind closed doors of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee this morning on the 570 million dollar China aid program.

His bid for additional military help to carry forward the "stop Communism" plan in Greece and Turkey was expected to be received in Capitol Hill during the day.

Leading Senators close to the foreign aid program conceded privately that the Communist seizure of power in Czechoslovakia will greatly improve Marshall's chances of getting the Greco-Turkish fund through Congress without major revision.

But other Senators made it clear (Continued on Page Two)

Two Fugitives From Prison Are Being Hunted

JACKSON, Mich., Feb. 26.—(INS)—Michigan state police conducted a land and air search today for two convicts who escaped from a southern Michigan prison camp last night.

Police at the Jackson post dispatched 14 scout cars and an airplane for the search.

Police described Kurner as the "up-off man" in the 1945 murder of Michigan State Senator Warren G. Hooper. Kurner's letter from prison started a grand jury investigation and brought about conviction of four Detroit hoodlums on charges of conspiracy to murder.

U.N. Nears Vote On Elections For Korea

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 26.—(INS)—The "Little Assembly" neared a vote today on the U. S. proposal that the United Nations go ahead with free elections in American-occupied Korea regardless of Russia's cold attitude.

Russia, occupying the northern Korea zone has taken a "negative" position in the U. N.'s program for the unification and freedom of Korea's 30,000,000 people as a whole. The Soviet Union has refused entry of the U. N. Korean commission to its zone.

Indications today were that the U. S. plan for a whole series of Korean elections, beginning in the southern areas, would meet the approval of a majority of the members of the interim committee, as the "Little Assembly" is called.

Great Britain led a swing toward the American plan, Valentine G. Lawford of the United Kingdom said his delegation favored the holding of elections now in southern Korea.

Lawford insisted there was nothing in the text of the resolution. (Continued on Page Two)

The council is expected to resume first its consideration of the three-man mediation board, Indonesian report submitted by and then take up hearings on the Pakistan charge of aggression and genocide against India.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko maintained silence during the first two sessions of the Security Council the armed force question to back up the partition plan, requested by the Palestine commission.

No Compensation For Cab Drivers Now Out On Strike

HARRISBURG, Feb. 26.—(INS)—The Unemployment Compensation Bureau today branded the Yellow Cab Company strike at Pittsburgh a "labor dispute" and disqualified drivers and telephone operators for jobless benefits.

Maintenance workers were ruled eligible for unemployment compensation under an act of 1947. The law grants payments to persons strike-aided, who are not members of striking unions, but are "directly affected" by work stoppages, the bureau said.

Teachers Continue Minneapolis Strike

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 26.—(INS)—The Minneapolis school teacher's strike continued uninterrupted today despite court action by a pupil's mother who seeks an injunction against the strikers.

Judge D. E. Lavelle has set March 4 as the date for hearing a motion for a temporary injunction to restrain the 1,100 teachers from interfering with the operation of the schools.

Suit for the injunction was filed in district court yesterday by Mrs. H. A. Jensen, mother of a 9-year-old fourth grade girl pupil and secretary of the Minneapolis Parent-Teachers association.

Joint Statement Issued By France, U. S., And Britain

Blistering Language Used In Denouncing Communist Coup In Czechoslovakia

CHARGE CRISIS WAS INSTIGATED

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The United States, Great Britain and France in an unprecedented joint statement today denounced in blistering language the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia as "establishment of a disguised dictatorship."

The gravity with which the western Allies regard the Red sweep in Czechoslovakia was emphasized not only by the fact that the pronouncement was the first tripartite blast at Communist aggression but also by the harsh wording of the statement.

Deliberate Instigation
Czech Communists were accused of "deliberately" instigating an artificial crisis and of jeopardizing the "very principles of liberty to which all democratic nations are attached."

Participation of France in the severe condemnation of the Czechoslovak Communist coup was viewed as especially significant in the light of approaching French elections.

The three-power declaration was immediately broadcast in native language by the "Voice of America" to Russia and all other parts of the world.

It was not immediately decided whether copies would be sent to Moscow or Prague but such action was believed likely.

May Contain France New Observers believe that the Moscow-directed plan for Communist expansion in Europe now will center on an attempt to win control of key functions of the French government.

The three-power joint statement said that the Communist maneuver "can only be disastrous for the Czechoslovak people."

The declaration, made public (Continued on Page Two)

'Voice Of America' Broadcasts Jammed, Russians Blamed

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—(INS)—"Voice of America" broadcasts to Moscow were declared today to have been blotted out by mysterious conditions which hint at deliberate Soviet efforts to prevent American views analysts from reaching the Russian people.

C. W. Thayer, setting chief of the Voice of America, in his New York office, confirmed the inability of the short wave programs to penetrate Russia "aerial iron curtain," but did not accuse the Soviet of "deliberate" jamming of the air ways.

British Unaffected
Engineers, however, pointed out that while "atmospheric interference" is blocking Moscow's reception of the American broadcast, British broadcasts are unaffected.

Voice of America spokesmen who requested their names be withheld explained significantly that this country's programs beamed at Moscow by short-wave transmission through Munich began to be subjected to the jamming soon after broadcast of "news" Russia withheld from its people.

Hundreds Pay Last Respect To Late Wesleyan Pastor

Seventy-Five Ministers in Attendance At Funeral Services At Primitive Methodist Church

Seventy-five ministers of district and local churches were among the several hundred persons that more than filled the Maitland Memorial Primitive church, South Mill street, Wednesday afternoon to pay their last respects to Rev. Chester Dallas Patterson, late pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist church, who died at his residence Sunday afternoon, following a three-month illness.

The service, in charge of Rev. H. C. VanWormer, president of Allegheny Conference, from Titusville, Pa., was participated in by pastors from the various churches at which Rev. Patterson ministered during his lifetime and members of Allegheny Conference, where the departed minister had held many positions of responsibility and trust.

HOSPITAL IN JERUSALEM IS UNDER ATTACK

Jewish counter-assaults on Arab houses, five of which were demolished. The Arab-Jewish clash started when units of Hagana, defense army of the Jewish agency, took up positions on the roofs of Hebrew university and the Hadassah hospital and opened fire on Arabs massing on the Wadi Jos area. The Jews sought to disperse the Arabs who reportedly were preparing to waylay a funeral convoy for burial of more than 50 victims of Sunday's explosions in Ben Yehuda street.

Harrowing 24 Hours
The Hadassah hospital escaped damage in the exchange but other buildings nearby suffered slight damage.

The renewed battling followed a harrowing 24 hours during which Arabs made 10 attacks on Jewish armored buses, trucks and cars inside Jerusalem's city limits. Other Arab attacks were carried out on Jewish convoys in various parts of Palestine.

The assaults were declared a part of a newly launched "convoys war" by the Arabs against Jews in an effort to strangle Jewish communications and supplies.

If the budget is increased by any additional capital outlay, salary increases or any other considerable expense, the twenty mill levy will have to be increased.

In Formative Stage
For the present, the budget is merely in the formative stage. Nothing has been agreed upon, finally, save those expenditures which are required by law. This would include debt reduction service, conformity to the state salary act, and other expenses.

In the matter of teachers' salaries, Superintendent Frank L. Burton has presented the board with several alternatives in the matter. These were considered in part but will be gone into further. In the meantime the board will hold additional budget meetings in an effort to come to a definite conclusion in time for adoption in April.

Conflicting proposals have been put before the council, one by the United States and another by Colombia. The United States motion wants the Big Five to decide whether peace is threatened in the Holy Land.

Colombia, on the other hand, wants to convoke a special session of the General Assembly for the reconsideration of the U. N. partition plan.

In the opinion of U. N. sources, Gromyko holds the key to the next move by the council on Palestine. It is a foregone conclusion that in his forthcoming speech he will lash out at Britain and probably at the United States.

talking at this time, and others are afraid that he is being held a virtual prisoner." (Hoyt said the Communists had not yet imposed any censorship on American broadcasters.)

Workers' action committees installed in factories, offices and government ministries began the purge. The newspaper Prace reported that the executive committee of the executive committee of the Czech foreign ministry had formed a sub-committee to purge reactionaries within the foreign office itself and among representatives abroad.

A newly-established central action committee of the Communist-dominated national front set up a "political coordinating body of all progressive Czechs to combat reaction."

Struggle Not Ended
Vice Premier Antonin Zapotcky, Communist trade union leader, was appointed chairman of the group, with Communist Justice Minister Alexej Cepicka as secretary general.

Cepicka declared that the struggle of the Communists cannot be deemed ended with solution of the government crisis. He said that reaction had been hit as never before but that the committee must take all measures to prevent a repetition of "similar provocative actions."

This reference was to the Communist charge that non-Communist forces in Czechoslovakia precipitated the crisis which enabled the leftists to carry out their coup.

Remove "Reactionaries"
(The Soviet Tass News Agency reported from Prague that a meeting of the central action committee in the foreign ministry demanded elements from the central apparatus of the ministry of foreign affairs and Czech representations abroad.)

The determination of the Communist regime to smash all opposition was demonstrated forcefully late yesterday when a student parade protesting the Red seizure of control was raked by gunfire from security police forces.

An address by the president was awaited as an anti-climax to the Communist triumph. President Benes had been scheduled to talk by radio last evening but the speech was postponed after Communist Premier Klement Gottwald achieved victory in naming ministers of his own choosing to the Communist-packed government.

Benes' address at 7 p. m. (1 p. m. EST) will be only a recorded version.

JOINT STATEMENT ISSUED BY FRANCE, U. S., AND BRITAIN

simultaneously in Washington, Paris and London was the first formal statement of the Western Powers on the developments which swept aside all pretense of parliamentary government or coalition government in Czechoslovakia.

Liberty in Jeopardy
The course of events in Czechoslovakia, the three paragraph statement said, places in jeopardy the "very existence of the principles of liberty to which all democratic nations are attached."

The document said the crisis was "artificially and deliberately instigated" using methods already tested in other places. The text of the statement follows:

"The governments of the United States, France and Great Britain have attentively followed the course of events which have just taken place in Czechoslovakia and which place in jeopardy the very existence of the principles of liberty to which all democratic nations are attached."

Artificial Crisis
"They note that by means of a crisis artificially and deliberately instigated the use of certain methods already tested in other places has permitted the suspension of the free exercise of parliamentary institutions and the establishment of a disguised dictatorship of a single party under the coal of a government of national union."

"They can but condemn a development of consequences of which can only be disastrous for the Czechoslovak people, who have proved since 1939 in the midst of the sufferings of the Second World War their attachment to the cause of liberty."

Secretary of State George C. Marshall is expected to be questioned on all phases of the Czechoslovak development at a news conference this afternoon.

that a bitter fight is in prospect. The military aspect of last year's 400 million dollar Greek-Turkish program is the principal point of controversy. The program was carefully limited to sending only a small staff of U. S. army officers for training purposes in the two countries.

Last year Greece was given 300 million dollars, 150 millions of which was in military aid, while all of Turkey's 100 millions was for that country's armed forces.

Another Problem
Although Greece and Turkey

also are included in the list of European nations receiving help under the European recovery plan, the military program represents another problem.

Some Senators believe it may have an important effect in other countries where the Communist drive for power is on.

There is little prospect of the Greek-Turkish program being taken up in the Senate, however, until sometime in April. The Senate's schedule calls for action first on the ERP bill, followed by the GOP tax reduction bill.

House Foreign Affairs leaders plan to incorporate at least the China program in the ERP bill. The program laid out now by Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., Senate Foreign Relations chairman, calls for passing ERP in the Senate first, then beginning hearings on China aid.

Roasting a Turkey shows why Boscul is Richer Coffee!

As every housewife knows, a large turkey must be roasted longer than a small one to bring it to the peak of flavor. This simple fact is the secret of new, richer Boscul Coffee's finer flavor!

1. Because all coffee beans are not the same size...

Coffee is blended from beans of various sizes. Other leading brands roast all size beans together. Result: Some over-roasted, some under-done.

2. Boscul 'custom-roasts' each size bean separately!

Of all leading coffees, only Boscul 'custom-roasts' each size bean separately, before blending...to bring out their maximum flavor and richness.

3. Boscul is roast-controlled by the electric eye!

More Flavor per cup
More Cups per pound

As a further flavor safeguard, Boscul uses the Electric Eye to eliminate guesswork and assure that each size bean is roasted to the peak of flavor.

Special displays, exhibits at every meeting, reports on gardens and plants of interest seen by members in the course of travels during the coming spring, summer and fall, and sending flowers in cases of illness were some of the suggestions.

Young, Mrs. Frank Albhorn, and Mrs. Harold Walton, each receiving a prize.

TO HONOR VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

The minutemen of 1948 are the fireman of small-town and rural America. In 1776 it was the farmers and townsmen of New England who stood ready to fight on a minute's notice. In 1948 it is the volunteer firemen who are in constant expectation of having to leap from daily tasks, or from bed at night, to fight an enemy more cruel and unpredictable than any human being.

Congressman J. Caleb Boggs has put a good idea in the form of a joint resolution introduced in Congress. His proposal is for the Post Office Department to issue a stamp honoring the volunteer firemen of America. Good for Mr. Boggs! Perhaps he has been a fireman himself; if not, as a country boy he has had ample opportunity to see what volunteer firemen do.

Volunteer firemen going to bed at night sleep lightly. At sound of the siren or telephone bell they are up and dressing, possibly cussing, yet on their way. Reaching the fire they may have to save household goods or even lives. Sometimes they are injured or die from burns or falling debris.

Year by year they become more efficient in their gallant, unpaid work. They go to classes to learn the latest methods of fire-fighting. The old quips about firemen doing more harm than good are no longer tolerable. No longer do they break down a door or smash a window if they can help it. Hoses are directed with as much regard to saving property as putting out the fire.

A U. S. stamp honoring the volunteer firemen of America would be first class postage.

DEFLATION AND HOUSING

Economists and others—mainly politicians—who have been busily engaged in interpreting and explaining the minor form of deflation which has occurred in stock and commodity prices and in some other lines, have uniformly ignored real estate and housing in their wordy outgivings. Yet it might be thought that people are more interested in building costs and real estate price trends, the housing situation being what it is, than in quotations of many other factors in the cost of living.

Some astute real estate experts predict minor reductions in building costs before the year's end, but no drastic cuts. If the cost of erecting an average dwelling drops somewhat, in their view, the cut must come in material costs. Labor costs will remain near present levels, they predict. None looks for a big building boom this year.

Real estate prices will drop in time if the present downward trend in prices continues, as they always have in the past. But real estate experts expect no discernible reduction in the months immediately ahead. They cite two main reasons for this opinion.

One is that the housing situation will remain acute, with a shortage of houses. Demand will prevent a drop to lower price levels in real estate. The other is that rent control has held down prices of investment properties. This class of real estate has not been inflated to the extent that other prices were inflated, because frozen rents prevented an attractive return on greatly inflated prices.

What this argument boils down to is that real estate was not inflated to the extent that the price of wheat was, for example, hence faces less severe deflation. And real estate price trend reversals are never as abrupt as about faces in commodities and stocks.

BOLSTERING GREECE

One year of American help will not put Greece firmly on the path toward political and economic stability. Nor will the original $300,000,000 of American cash contributed for that purpose be enough. The job will take more time and more money—how much additional time and money is anybody's guess.

President Truman says as much in his second quarterly report to Congress on the Greek-Turkish aid program. Recent "adverse" developments have "lengthened the time necessary for Greece's ultimate recovery" and Congress will be asked to provide more funds for military assistance "at the appropriate time."

It may be asked how 20,000 guerillas can keep Greece paralyzed. The report contains the answer. Communist bands ravaged the country, destroy villages, force people to flee for their lives. There are now 420,000 refugees in the cities. They are a heavy burden on a nation of less than 8,000,000 persons struggling with the effects of years of war.

The Greek army can defeat the guerillas when it can catch them, it is held, but it has not been big enough to blanket the country or close the border. It is being expanded now and eventually it should be able to restore peace. How long it will take and how much American money will be needed no one can say.

Four million college students are anticipated for the United States by 1960. Boy! what football teams we will have then!

Speaking of the recent slump in the grain markets, maybe when President Truman denounced the speculators he didn't expect them to take it so much to heart.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Oestreicher, INS Foreign Director

Newly-born postwar Czechoslovakian industries with enormous potentials for the future appeared in danger.

The growing possibility that Czechoslovakia will "go Communist" threatened a vast plan of reconstruction and rehabilitation which already had begun to pay dividends.

It seems certain that if Czechoslovakia is swallowed up behind the "Iron Curtain" many American and other buyers who had Prague and Pilsen on their lists will turn elsewhere for their goods.

Made Valiant Effort
The Czechoslovaks made a valiant effort to throw off the evil heritages of Adolf Hitler's long occupation.

They turned swords into plowshares. Converting the great Skoda munitions works to peaceful purposes. Trained technical workmen, forced under the Nazis to manufacture the tools of war, were allowed to resume their delicate work on Bohemian glass, fine china and pottery.

The women, turned loose from factories that for years made nothing but Nazi uniforms, went back to magnificent embroidery, the fabrication of fine textiles, rare beadwork and the like.

From all of this revived peaceful industry the Czechs hoped to make possible a real prosperity in spite of the economic and political conditions that prevailed between two world wars.

Czechoslovak trade circles in the United States are hopeful, of course, that even establishment of a Communist government would make no essential difference.

Doesn't Look Promising
But they reluctantly admit that such a development would mean that businessmen wanting to visit Prague would have to receive special permission—presumably a not so essential difference.

And they know that American businessmen do not choose to have their comings and goings supervised by Moscow.

Czechoslovakia's postwar recovery steps were little short of miraculous. There has been full employment, and while the Leftists have demanded nationalization of industry, this was based upon a presumably sound theory that the rank and file of the people, plus the country's own economy, would benefit thereby.

Plans were set for trade fairs and exhibitions. Czechoslovakia advertised for tourists, ridiculing the idea of an "Iron Curtain" in Prague and romantically describing the country as a modernized country out of the Middle Ages, filled with music, beauty, freedom and gorgeous scenery.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

IF CHILD WON'T PAY ATTENTION
Yesterday we observed that the more ways in which the infant is stimulated by his environment, the more rapidly he grows. We also observed that he can be so strongly and constantly stimulated as to appear to be very jittery, even scatterbrained.

Proper toys in the infant's hands can be very useful to him if they don't over-stimulate him. So can talking to the infant and doing things with him and for him, so long as such do not over-stimulate him and create a background for hampering his gaining habits needed for wholesome serenity in him and for his conformity to social patterns essential to his later guidance and happiness.

Defeat Own Purpose
Unfortunately, some parents are so eager to evoke from the infant so early as possible new glimmers of his brilliance that they defeat their own purpose for promoting his best education and social adaptation later.

In these days when so few parents and children are serene and so many are jumpy and jittery and so many are so special, emphasis on more calmness and poise in the home; and not only for better emotional health but also for better mental development of the child.

Though there are some spongelike minds which seek information while also interpreting and organizing it, doing the former does not guarantee doing the latter. Indeed, great emphasis on scattered facts and objects of interest may discourage good habits of concentration.

Continual Moving
While continual moving from one object or activity to another, always rushing hither and yon, may not preclude an accompanying flitting-in-like fashion from one thing to another, the two often go together. Certainly the child at two or three who rarely or never concentrates on anything for as much as a few minutes at a stretch does not have a favorable background for acquiring good habits of concentration later.

Many a mother writes me of the child two, three or four, "He won't be still long enough for me to read to him."

I advise two procedures: 1. Calm down the child during the next few weeks or months through quiet tones, quiet family atmosphere, quiet positive suggestions.

2. While he is still for a moment show him a book with a few nursery rhymes or brief stories beautifully illustrated. As he looks, talk about the pictures and read. As soon as his interest lags put the book away. Later try him again, and so on. Still later he will listen longer, being quiet longer, concentrating longer. I can think of no better early training in concentration. (My bull's-eye, "The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate" may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 225 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.)

At last, the new look for men. At last you'll be able to throw that old hat of yours away and be attired as gaily and as crazily as your wife or sister or sweetheart or grandmother.

At last—provided you have $150 to spend for a suit, $20 for a hat, $19.85 for a pair of shoes.

Otherwise, you had just better have your old things pressed up a bit, and if you are real nice, I'm sure your wife will see that missing button on your vest.

But here it is, the latest fashion report directly from the annual style show of the Custom Tailors and Designers Association of America held at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York just a few days ago.

If that isn't authentic, I don't know what is.

There will be many radical changes in men's clothes. Homburgs will replace high hats for evening wear—high hats get crushed when getting into your limousine, the custom tailors say.

Sports jackets will be double-breasted for the first time in 20 years. Imagine!

The black full-dress suit will become twilight blue.

The standard conservative cut-away will be all blue.

What to wear for business? "The houndstooth suit, a modification of the cutaway brings down the cutaway to an informal business suit. Men can wear them after business when attending cocktail parties or the theatre. It is a single-breasted with striped trousers, made in dark blue, brown and green."

Another highlight is the summer "dress-alike" dinner jacket for men and women in matched fabrics. One is in champagne color, double-breasted for the man, single-breasted for the woman, with her skirt and pants reaching almost to the floor.

There is also an "Eisenhower tuxedo," modeled after the battle jacket, all white with black trousers.

So there we are, my dears. Can't we just see ourselves in gay pastels—peach, old rose, Nile green and lavender—both we and our wives wearing "matched" raiment?

Can't we just see ourselves—or can we?

I am sorry to report that nothing was said at the meeting about overalls and khakis.

I don't know whether those shoes I wear in the house (those shoes with the hole in the sole and the laces knotted together) will still be in style, or whether I should wear a champagne-colored tuxedo if I have to milk the cows after six in the evening.

If I can ever get the linings in my old suits mended, if I can get the stains out of my old battered hat, I'm afraid I'll continue to wear the good old look instead of the new one.

And how happy I shall be! (Copyright, 1948, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Hints On Etiquette

When entertaining formally, both host and hostess stand at the door and shake hands with every arrival. On informal occasions both rise and go forward to greet each guest, man or woman, but not necessarily a child, although the more children are treated as people and greeted as such, the better for them.

State Police Say:
Parents: If your teen aged son or daughter should know about his responsibility as a bicycle rider, would you be able to answer his question correctly? Do you know what is required of a bicycle rider under the Pennsylvania traffic laws? Why not find out and then insist that your youngsters adhere strictly to the law.

Greek Influence Is Seen

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Oil Is Key To World Action

WASHINGTON Feb. 26 — To justify any policy anywhere in these times you have only to say: "Oil." It is the magic password that explains action in the farthest corners of the globe.

The American public is told that with our dwindling supplies of oil it would be impossible for us to fight another major war. Our security is at stake. Therefore Greece, therefore Palestine, therefore Audi Arabia.

Against this background of extra special urgency, a remarkable proposal is before Congress with the likelihood that it will be adopted. Under this proposal, Congress would hand over for immediate exploitation the largest single reserve of oil in this country.

Stripped of the oratory, that would be the effect of the bill to give the states title to oil-rich lands under coastal waters. It would nullify a decision of the United States Supreme Court holding that such lands belong to the federal government.

"Old Battle Cry"
The issue is dressed up with the old battle cry of state's rights. A parade of governors and other officials representing 44 states have come before a joint Senate-House committee considering the measure. They talk about undermining the bill of rights and jeopardizing all that the states have done in developing harbors and fisheries.

The administration has a counter proposal. This would permit the development of tidelands oil under careful federal supervision, with prime consideration given to the navy's needs. Most of the revenue from the oil would go to the states.

The protest of the states stems back to Edwin W. Pauley of California. As was brought out at the time Senate committee rejected him for the post of Undersecretary of the Navy, because of his own oil connections, had a direct interest in preventing the federal government from taking over.

Larger Scope
Since then, the protest has taken on a larger scope. Many of the witnesses are undoubtedly sincere when they talk about state's rights. But they should understand how costly states' rights can be when this doctrine cuts across the imperative need to fix a national policy.

If the national need for oil reserves is anything like as urgent as our military planners say, then the first duty is to consult what is left of our once vast resources. This may mean reduced profits for a few oil companies. It may mean temporarily reduced revenues for the tidelands states. But oil reserves are a lot more secure a mile off the coast of California than they are in the Arabian desert 5000 miles away.

Members of the congressional committee should read a just published book that has already stirred controversy. It is "A National Policy for the Oil Industry," by Eugene V. Rostow of the Yale University Law School. Published by the Yale University Press, the book was prepared with the help of a committee of Yale experts in economics and political science. Rostow shows that present Pensions have been boosted for veterans of the Indian wars unless they happen to be Indians.

The feeling was that any group of men who had passed a social security act would be entitled to a small bonus for fooling the statisticians.

Under the new code, social security pays off at 65 and Indian fighting at 85. Veterans of the last conflict can expect to be well taken care of at 190.

But the Indians are the only people who ever lost a war to us and didn't make a hundred per cent profit on it in future trading.

This comes of sending out ambassadors with glass beads instead of tall coats.

At least when the Indians fought a war it came to definite end which is more than the UN has accomplished.

The Indians sat down with their late enemies and smoked the pipe of peace. At the UN the signs still read "No Smoking".

Jobs Upon A Time

Actor Gary Cooper—top favorite with many—began a career as a cartoonist on a newspaper in his native state of Montana; he shifted to a job as advertising salesman, and then to the films.

Bronx Behind 'Iron Curtain'

By PAUL GALICCO

It is all so confusing, this business of politics, left-wingers, Henry Wallace, the Third Party, the Communists and all the things that are going on in this world. I try to keep up to date on them and understand them, for after all, I am supposed to be a newspaper columnist and to comment intelligently upon current events, though it actually doesn't say so anywhere in my contract.

Now this thing that happened up in the Bronx last week. I mean the special election for the Congressional Seat from the 24th District which was won by this chap Isacson, the American Labor Party candidate backed by the Communist Party and Henry Wallace. It is being hailed as a great radical victory and as strengthening Mr. Wallace's Third Party, which has also been given a warm and moist embrace by the Communists. I guess that's all so, but I for one shall be sorry to see the Bronx vanish behind the Iron Curtain. I had grown sort of used to the place in the years I have lived in New York and there were many spots in it I used to like to visit. Well, I suppose that is all over now.

All Kinds Of Complications
I can foresee all kinds of complications which may not have occurred to you who do not dwell in our fair city, or even to those who do. For instance, now that the Borough of the Bronx has come under the Soviet Sphere of Influence, how does one get to go to see the New York Yankees play if one happens to live in Manhattan, Queens, Brooklyn or Richmond? You will say that this is only half a problem, since nobody in Brooklyn would give a cancelled two cent stamp to see the Yanks play, but we Manhattanites are fond of the team and the Yankee Stadium is located well over the border in the Bronx or Occupation Zone.

Get a visa, you suggest. Huh! You know how those Russians are when it comes to red tape and letting anybody cross the border. Ask anybody who has come back from Berlin or Vienna what happens when the boys take over.

Cuts Out Bronx Zoo
Well, that cuts out the Botanical Gardens and the Bronx Zoo where I have some favorite animals I used to like to visit, and Pelham Bay Park with a couple of public golf courses, plus a population of some 1,400,000 people whom we shall miss. It isn't easy to lose an area of 41 square miles suddenly. It's disturbing. One moment everything is fine and we are one happy family. The Bronx is safe in the hands of its Democratic Prime Minister, Ed Flynn, and then bingo, there's an upheaval. When the smoke clears away Tovarich Wallace has taken his place as Generalissimo, and the Bronx is lost to the United States.

War By Infiltration
Of course, this is all a part of the cold or small, war by infiltration. But it comes as a shock to those of us who have had no experience to regard as American. Nobody has heard anything from that sector since it was taken over and the Bronx Expresses stopped running except as far as the border, so there is no telling how the Bronxites really feel about this change in their destinies, and, of course, once full censorship is clapped on and the Bronx Division of the N. K. D. V., or Secret Police, begins to function, we never will learn to what extent a Truman Underground flourishes there, or whether the Democratic minority, along with the remaining Republicans, have been liquidated in the torture chambers of the county court house.

But there must be thousands of Bronx girls with sweethearts living in other zones who will now be forbidden to marry them, or to leave the territory. The Politburo will no longer want the Bronx peasants visiting the theatres and night spots of midtown Manhattan lest they get ideas about life in a free country. Surely this will create difficulties. I dunno. The whole thing is just too much for me. . . . (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

They Say

WASHINGTON — Rep. Rankin (D. Miss.): "Rent control is a step toward the communistic state. It's in the same class with fair employment practice legislation."

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Harold E. Stassen: "Russia has not acted in accordance with things said at my conference with Stalin. They have followed a policy of disruption, attempted infiltration everywhere and have caused Communist riots in France and Italy."

NEW YORK — Robert R. Young, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad: "A national railroad standards are down to twenty years ago we had 2,300,000 freight cars, a much smaller nation and did not have the world to feed. We have less today."

WASHINGTON — Rep. Celler (D. N. Y.), commenting on UN Delegate Austin's request for another committee to study Palestine issues: "We have enough committees now. Action, not words, are wanted. Inaction only encourages Arab incursions and bloodshed. This is further evidence of U. S.'s fumbling and faintness of heart."

Eisenhower has decidedly declined to be a candidate and even if nominated and elected will decline to serve.

There is a possible dark horse in the personality of General MacArthur, but among them does not appear the name of Secretary of State Marshall. What is the matter with Marshall? Isn't he the man that is going to save Europe with his "Plan"? Isn't he the man that Time Magazine has nominated the winning man in 1947—the man of the year? Well, it seems that the "Marshall Plan" is not as popular as it was expected to be. It seems they are raising some food in Europe and some of the down-trodden satellites of Russia are said to be rather hostile to the voluntary aid of the United States of America—they don't know whether they want to accept bounty from such a source. Well, that would be all down the Russian side of the street anyway.

Vice President Problem
There may be others who would volunteer to head the leading Parties' slate, but it is not so easy to find a volunteer for Vice President. The politicians evidently think that fighting with strike so soon in the same spot; that it takes more than a generation to occasion the death of a President of the United States when in office. Abraham Lincoln was the first President to be violently removed from office. Approximately fifteen years went by before the shooting of Garfield. It took another seventeen years to occasion the death of William McKinley and just a trifle more than seventeen years to occasion the death of Harding; and (Continued on Page Five)

Heiress To Jay Gould Fortune Admits She No Longer Loves Him

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 26.—(INS)—The bitter divorce duel between the heiress to the Jay Gould fortune and her socialite husband flamed into its third day of courtroom combat today, sparked by the admission of the heiress that she no longer loved him.

Gioia Gould made the assertion late yesterday when she followed her husband, William Grinditch, scion of a wealthy Philadelphia clan, to the witness stand in Phoenix superior court.

The admission was made in retaliation of Grinditch's three-hour verbal attack on her from the stand in which he testified that he believed the contents of Gioia's glib-edged diary proved that she and Blake Brophy, son of a Phoenix banker, had been lovers.

Paul Roca, attorney for Grinditch, asked Gioia:

"On Dec. 25, 1945, you fell in love with Blake Brophy?"

"I became infatuated," she replied.

"You are in love with Brophy, are you not?" Roca continued. Gioia sat tight-lipped. Roca persisted:

"From Dec. 1945, to Dec. 1946, you were in love with Brophy?"

"Yes, that is correct. I was in love with Blake," she replied.

"You are not in love with your husband?" she was asked.

"That is correct," was the answer.

Grinditch during his three-hour stay on the stand said that Gioia blamed the breakup of their marriage on "the lure of the west and its he-men." He said he first began to suspect his 23-year-old wife's fidelity when he found two letters addressed to her by Brophy, who was attending Yale University at the time.

Message Poor Affair

Mr. Truman had his opportunity in his opening message to the Eightieth Congress, in January and it was the consensus of opinion among the Democrats that it was a poor affair. It was long enough—fifty-five hundred words, said to be put together by Presidential advisers Clifford and Steelman. The State Department gave them "The Plan"; the Treasury, the no-loss-in-revenue tax proposal; the Justice, civil liberties; the Interior, conservation of natural resources; Council of Economic Advisers, the inflation phase.

It was the coldest reception that any President ever got before a Congressional joint session in the memory of the Press and the Press has a long memory. When Mr. Truman mounted the rostrum to begin his forty-five minute speech, polite applause greeted him; when he wished Congress a Happy New Year, more polite applause. Thereafter, unbroken silence prevailed in the big House chamber. But when Secretary of State Marshall entered that memorable meeting, he drew a rising ovation from the entire Senate and House membership. He had been taken out as Truman's running mate, but Marshall like Eisenhower is not very strong for being either the candidate or the Vice candidate. If Congress would thoroughly approve "The Marshall Plan" for European relief, before the Conventions assemble next summer, that would be something, but Congress will probably do no such thing.

MEETING OF ENGAGED COUPLE'S PARENTS

"Soon my engagement will be announced. I should like to know when it is correct for our parents to meet."

Answer: As soon as the engagement is announced by the bride's parents, the parents of the groom should call on their prospective daughter-in-law and her parents. This call should be made whether or not the families have met. Usually within a short time thereafter, the groom's parents give a dinner for the bride-to-be and her family so that the two families may become acquainted. And in a little while, the bride's family should reciprocate.

Question: Please give me information on bridal attendant's gifts—what should they be and when should they be presented?

Answer: The bridesmaids and the maid-of-honor receive gifts from the bride at a luncheon or tea some time before the wedding. If the family is wealthy, these may be gifts of jewelry—wrist watches, expensive clips, pins or gold compacts or possibly scarab bracelets. Sometimes, these gifts are accessories for the bridesmaids' wedding ensembles, such as hats, gloves, etc. A bride of moderate means may choose costume jewelry. All gifts should be of equal value.

Question: When a girl and a man have met at a friend's home, is it the girl's privilege to ask him to call on her or should this suggestion come from the man?

Answer: The man usually asks for permission to call on the girl but there are times when it is permissible for her to make the suggestion. For instance, if he has taken her to a party as a blind date or has escorted her home from a friend's house, she may—if she thinks he will welcome the suggestion—ask him to call on her sometime. She should be sure that he has shown sufficient interest in her to indicate he might like to see her again. If he takes no advantage of her invitation, she should not give him a second chance.

Present your problems to Miss Marrel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

State Agencies Pay Own Way

Several Agencies Meet Own
Cost Despite General
Price Spiral

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Feb. 26.—(INS)

—The cost of government operations has soared along with the general price spiral, but several state agencies have managed to pay for themselves in revenue collections. A survey prepared by State Budget Secretary Edward B. Logan shows that six non-tax gathering departments took in enough money in fees and assessments during the 1945-47 biennium to underwrite their own expenses and return a surplus. The study indicates the biggest collectors were the insurance and state departments. The insurance department obtained approximately $1,168,000 and after paying expenses had a $500,000 balance, Logan said. The money came from license fees and assessments on insurance companies operating in Pennsylvania. The state department enjoyed fees from political candidates aggregating $800,000 and spent only $300,000.

Other agencies listed as breaking even were the banking department, game, state farm show and fish commissions. Expenditures of the fish commission overbalanced its intake by only a slight sum, Logan said. Others running close were the Public Utility Commission and Milk Control Commission. The PUC spent about $2,000,000 compared with its income of $1,600,000 while the MCC expended $800,000 and realized only $275,000 the survey showed. The income of the various agencies include fees charged citizens for services rendered from issuing birth certificates to inspecting elevators. The total returns registered by the profit-taking agencies were $400,000 during the 1945-47 period. The expenditures were $85,000,000, according to Logan.

Republicans stand in danger of losing their comfortable majority in the state house of representatives during the 1948 election unless the GOP slates a popular, vote-drawing candidate for president. That is the contention of a spokesman of the Pennsylvania Republican party. The GOP picked up 60 house seats in the 1946 balloting, increasing the Republican dominated membership ratio of 109-89 to 169-39. But during the 1947 municipal election Democrats made a clean sweep in Allegheny county, indicating a forthcoming reduction in the county's GOP delegation in the house, and made gains elsewhere. Unless an outstanding candidate heads the party, Republicans may suffer losses in house delegations from Beaver, Clinton, Erie, Lebanon, Washington, Lackawanna and other counties.

A "no strike" campaign for better wages and working conditions is beginning to pay off for the Pennsylvania State Nurses Association. It has been waged for two years as a quiet, persistent drive to obtain sympathetic understanding of nurses' cost of living problems. The organization reports in its periodical that many hospitals adopted wage scales outlined by the association at the beginning of the year. "We do not regard our program as a pitched battle between the nurses on one side and the hospital authorities on the other," the organization explained. The sole recourse from rejection is to "keep trying," it added.

Harrisburg politicians are predicting J. Calvin (Hap) Frank, a former insurgent Republican who returned to the organization fold, will run for the legislature. Robert S. Ogilvie, a local American Legion commander who has been endorsed for the house, is expected to withdraw in order to devote full time to the veterans organization. Frank will run in his place. The prognosticators claim, Frank was an unsuccessful candidate for secretary of internal affairs in 1946 as the running mate of ousted Highways Secretary John U. Shroyer for governor.

Soil Conservation Keystone Of Long Range Farm Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(INS)—Rep. Hope (R) Kans., labeled soil conservation the keystone of the nation's long-range farm policy but expressed doubt that Congress can hammer out an over all plan during 1948.

The chairman of the House agriculture committee said in an interview that a practical price support program and expanded farm research and education will also rate high in any long-term plan. He added, however:

"It is doubtful whether we can get together on a long-range program this year."

Hope said that in the next three or four years the European recovery program will have more influence on U. S. farm production than any policies laid down by the government." He added:

"The American farmer will have to adjust himself to national and world conditions."

Medical Society Plans Centennial

Extremes in Transportation Problems Will Be Feature Of History

One hundred years ago, young Dr. Frederick Reinwald, of Liberty, Tioga county, was killed by a panther while on a trip to a patient, and yesterday Dr. Harold L. Foss, of Danville, hopped into his airplane and flew to a medical meeting.

These extremes in the transportation problems of physicians will feature a part of the History of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania now being prepared for publication in connection with the Centennial Celebration of this organization to be held in Philadelphia in October.

"Pennsylvania was the cradle of medical education and advancement in America," declared Dr. Howard K. Petry, of Harrisburg, former president of the Society, who is in charge of research, writing, and production of the history, and we propose to present in concrete form the large part of our Society took in furthering sound, scientific medical practice in the Commonwealth.

"There were few medical societies in existence in this country a century ago," added Dr. Petry, "and they were, for the most part, small county groups. Leaders of these feeble groups felt the need for a larger and stronger organization to encourage medical progress, to elevate professional standards, to protect individual practitioners, and to promote all measures to relieve suffering and improve the health and protect the lives of the community."

The History will not overlook the human interest side of medical practice in Pennsylvania during the last 100 years and will include many anecdotes of physician-patient relationship. Authentic stories of unusual interest relating to the physicians of bygone years will be welcomed by Dr. Petry for consideration for the book, being prepared at the headquarters of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania, 230 State street, Harrisburg.

Control Center Kept In Shape

Center Of Wartime Civilian Defense Organization Of State Kept In Readiness

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Feb. 26.—(INS)—The state is keeping in tip-top shape a fully-equipped office which has not been used since the war. The office was headquarters of the "control center" for the wartime civilian defense organization. Since disbandment of the protection network at the end of hostilities the office has been maintained for possible use by the governor's emergency disaster committee. Should a civilian protection program materialize again it would be available. The emergency disaster committee has not used the office yet but instead handles its flood program in the department of forests and waters.

Governor Duff is relying on his faith in human nature for the success to one of his highway safety campaigns. The drive to reduce highway death tolls and casualties entails distribution of "safe driving" stickers to vehicle operators in the hope that those affixing the signs to car windows and windshields will feel obliged to drive carefully. On receipt of the stickers they are expected to pledge not to drive if under the influence of liquor and to observe all highway safety rules. The governor and his safety advisors believe the volunteer campaign will work.

Proponents of Henry A. Wallace and a third party finally have settled down to an intensive campaign to whip up votes for the former vice president in the April 27 preferential presidential primary. The organization, the Pennsylvania Progressives for Wallace committee, had an embarrassing start when attempting to get a convention site in Harrisburg. The capital city's three largest auditoriums suddenly were unavailable for the Wallace group. But "Hank's" boys were not to be outdone. They went to York, in control of the Democratic party, and rented a high school auditorium. The committee expects more than 2000 persons to attend the March 7 convention. No shrinking violet, the committee modestly believes the convention will be "the most tremendous political event in Pennsylvania history." It was immediately apparent that the upset victory of Leo Isacson in New York's special congressional election had given the committee a shot in the arm.

The 1948 session of the General Assembly is roughly 10 months away but the state department of property and supplies, the housekeeper of Pennsylvania government, already is preparing for the biennial meeting. Committee rooms are being sanded, varnished and repaired. The huge house chamber, and the smaller senate, will receive minute checkups. The two chandeliers in the house soon will be lowered to enable employees to replace blackened lights in the huge fixture.

List Peak Hours, Days For Traffic Fatalities

HARRISBURG, Feb. 26.—The State's Bureau of Highway Safety reports that a survey of traffic accidents in 1947 shows that most fatalities occurred on weekends and between the hours of 6 and 7 and 10 and 11 p. m.

The safest hour of the day was between 4 and 5 a. m. in rural areas the peak hour for traffic fatalities was between 6 and 7 p. m. while in urban areas there was little difference in the period from 6 p. m. to midnight.

Claims Detroit Is Gateway For Illegal Entries

Pennsylvania Congressman Claims Communists, Fascists And Criminal Aliens Entering

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(INS)—Rep. McDowell (R) Pa., asserts that Detroit has become the "major gateway" for an illegal traffic of communist, fascist and criminal aliens "who are pouring across the U. S. borders."

The chairman of the house un-American activities subcommittee on fascism declared aliens have been "sneaking by" customs barriers at the Michigan metropolis "thick and fast."

He remarked: "I understand that some communists have come through in busloads."

Wholesale Laziness
McDowell, who has been probing lax border regulations which he says have allowed aliens to enter this country subversively, called upon Detroit Immigration Inspector Francis Langthorne to give a first hand account of the seriousness of the situation.

Langthorne was to appear at a locked door session. McDowell said the inspector had information that "hardened communists, criminals and fascists" have found easy entry into the United States at Detroit.

Head For Detroit
The Pennsylvania congressman remarked that evidence indicated that the undesirable aliens illegally entered Canada and then headed for Detroit as the heaviest spot for border traffic in the world.

McDowell commented: "Thousands of good, proper Canadians work in Detroit factories and thousands of good, proper Americans go into Canada. But because there are so many thousands, the inspectors sometimes are careless and that gives these aliens a chance to sneak by."

Czechoslovakia Had Its Birth In U.S. 30 Years Ago

By WILLIAM FLANNERY
 (U. S. Staff Correspondent)
 PITTSBURGH, Feb. 26.—It was just 30 years ago that Czechoslovakia, the small European country which has been gobbled up by the Communists, had its birth—in Pittsburgh.
 It was in the city of steel and smoke that Dr. Thomas G. Masaryk laid plans for the forming of the republic, and the "Pittsburgh pact" was drafted.
 Signed on Memorial Day, in 1918, the pact united the Czechs and Slovaks and took them from under the 500-year rule by the Austro-Hungarian monarchy.
 Dr. Masaryk and Albert Mannatel, president of the Slovak national society, arranged the terms of the pact, which resulted in the Czechs and Slovaks in this country raising a fund in support of the infant republic.
 Government Approved
 The Allies approved a hastily set up government at Prague soon after World War I. Dr. Masaryk, in Washington at the time arranging for the new nation, learned he had been elected president.
 The new republic received formal approval at the peace conference at Versailles, France, and Dr.

Masaryk was re-elected president in 1920, 1927, and again in 1934. He resigned in 1935 because of old age and turned the reins of government over to Dr. Edouard Benes.
 Meanwhile, friends of Jacques Zak-Marusiak, the Czech consul in Pittsburgh, said today they were worried about his status since the Communists have taken over his country.
 His friends said Zak-Marusiak is an anti-Communist, although he cannot, for obvious reasons, express himself openly on the matter.
 Zak-Marusiak himself, however, said he is not worried and that he doesn't intend to resign. There are no indications at present that he will be replaced.
 Rudolph Martonovich, a former editor of the Peoples Daily and Pravda, a weekly published in Pittsburgh, was identified as one of the Communists who helped turn Czechoslovakia over to the Russians.
 Martonovich reportedly left Pittsburgh six months ago.
 In the sketches and studies of the well-known French animal painter, Rosa Bonheur, many famous sires of the Percheron breed of horses—Brilliant, Voltaire, Jupiter and Confident—have been realistically preserved for inspection of breeders. Rosa Bonheur was born in 1822 and died in 1899.
 The ampere, measure of the rate of flow of electricity, was named after Andre Marie Ampere, inventor of the electro-magnet.

The World Mission of the Church Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Pilgrims going to church.

"Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation."—Mark 16:15.
 By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
 (The International Lesson on the above topic for February 29 is Acts 16:9, 10; Romans 10:8-15; Ephesians 3:8-12. The Memory Verse being Mark 16:15. "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation.")

Paul was at Thessalonica, a seacoast town of Asia Minor. In the night he was awakened by a vision: a man stood before him, a Macedonian, and he said, "Come over into Macedonia, and help us."
 Macedonia is the country generally designated as northern Greece, and Paul was sure that the Lord had sent this messenger to him because God wanted him to go to Macedonia to preach the gospel to those living there.
 Paul lost no time in taking a boat and going first to Samothracia and from thence to Neapolis, then on to Philippi, the chief city of the country. This is Paul's second missionary journey. With Paul were Silas, Timothy and Luke, the latter afterwards writing this account.
 The boat was provided, and the four Christian missionaries were on their way, coming to Philippi, Macedonia's chief city, where they abode for several days. This was the first time a Christian missionary had set foot on Europe's soil; the first to carry the gospel to what then was, and for many centuries remained, the great center of the western world. It was not an easy assignment. They received kindness and hospitality from Lydia, seller of purple, but later was thrown into prison and beaten, but this is often the lot of those who bring the gospel to ignorant or bigoted people.
 If the teacher draws on the board a picture of the type of boat in which Paul and his companions set out to go to Macedonia, showing also a map of Thessalonica and Macedonia, it would make it interesting, especially for the younger children. Comparisons between the means of travel in Paul's day and in our own would also interest children, even though the subject is not new.

 Paul Writes to the Romans
 In a letter to the Romans, written in 60 A. D., Paul writes that his desire and prayer to God for Israel is that they might be saved. Ignorance will not perform the task, ignorance of God's righteousness, nor "going about to establish their own righteousness."
 "But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart; that is, the word of faith, which we preach:
 "That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.
 "For with the heart man believeth righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.
 "For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on Him shall not be ashamed." Then he goes on, on the subject that was a cause of discussion in the still earlier days of the church—should the gospel be preached to Jews alone, or to Gentiles too? Paul says distinctly, "For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon Him."
 "For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved." Then he appeals to the missionaries in these words: "How then shall they call on Him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in Him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher?
 "And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!"
 Paul tells not only how much need there is of missionaries to bring these glad tidings, but also how beautiful such work is, and how rewarding, no matter how difficult and full of hardships.
 Paul Is Humble
 Writing to the Ephesians three years later, Paul refers to himself as "less than the least of all saints," but even so, "is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ;
 "And to make all men see what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ:
 "According to the eternal purpose which He purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord:
 "In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of Him."
 This is a rather difficult lesson for children, but it can be made interesting by pointing out Paul's zeal to bring the message of the gospel to all the world, and his exhortation to the members of the early church, urging upon them the necessity of spreading the gospel. Kaiser-Frazer Plant Workers Facing Layoffs

WILLOW RUN, Mich., Feb. 26.—(INS)—Some 2,400 wage earners face an indefinite layoff today following announcement by the Kaiser-Frazer Corporation that it will eliminate its night shift next Monday.
 Vice-President and General Manager Edgar F. Kaiser said economy and efficiency will be stressed in a revised schedule of exclusive day shift operations as a result of "an economy drive in the face of mounting costs."
 Single Shift Basis
 The entire plant will be closed during the first four days of March, re-opening March 5 on a single shift basis.
 The new policy leaves a "working force" of 14,500 at Willow Run, 8,000 on the production line or in related departments.
 A Kaiser-Frazer spokesman said there were "no specific" plans for re-hiring the 2,400 workers now on the night shift.
 A corporation spokesman said the modified program means a reduction in current daily output of some 900 passenger cars.
 A post service by couriers on horseback along the present Boston Post road was the beginning of overland mail service in the United States.

SIR HARRY LAUDER SINGS
 GLASGOW, Scotland — Flags were flying, a pipe band played, and Sir Harry Lauder sang at the official reception for the Yankee Friend Ship and its $1,250,000 cargo for the needy of Glasgow from the people of New England.
 Five minutes after the reception decorated trucks piled high with the gifts sped from the docks to hospitals and other distribution centers.
 Tom Johnston, chairman of the Scottish Tourist Board, accepted the gifts as the spontaneous offer from a "great American city to a temporarily embarrassed Scotland."

Britain Plans Statement On Czechoslovakia

By THOMAS C. WATSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(INS)—The British government made contact with Washington and Paris today regarding future recognition of the new Communist government in Czechoslovakia.

A British foreign office spokesman announced that a full report on developments had been received from J. Pierson Dixon, Britain's ambassador in Prague.

A statement is to be made by a government official in the House of Commons this afternoon.

This is expected to follow the line frequently expressed that Britain is greatly concerned over non-democratic methods the Communists have adopted, especially in seizing control of the Czech military as well as the ministry of the interior.

The latter cabinet post controls the police.

MEETINGS POSTPONED
LONDON, Feb. 26.—(INS)—An indefinite postponement was called today in the meetings of deputies of the big four foreign ministers discussing Austria, because of the illness of Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov who is suffering from grip.

Urges Barring Truman's Name

Virginia Governor Opens Drive To Refuse Southern Support To President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(INS)—Gov. William M. Tucker of Virginia today opened a drive for refusal of southern support to President Truman in the 1948 election if such action is necessary to defeat the president's civil rights program.

Tuck, in a personal appearance before the legislature in Richmond, urged other southern states to join Virginia in barring Mr. Truman from their ballots if that course is found "necessary for their own self-preservation."

The governor asked the legislature for authority to hold presidential electoral votes in abeyance "as an effective remedy" for the president's program.

This new barrage in the Dixie fight with the president over civil rights legislation was fired as southern Democrats in Congress sought to prevent Republican leaders from forcing a showdown on the issue.

If backache and leg pains nagging at you, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Kidneys may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons waste out of the blood. They help keep people young about 50 years.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging headaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eye, headaches and dizziness. Frequent of scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

WORK IS PLEASANT IN WELL ARRANGED KITCHEN

Does your kitchen have what you need, where you need it, and when you need it? If it doesn't, then perhaps a few minor changes in arrangement and the addition of racks or shelves will help to make your kitchen work easier.

The kitchen is primarily your workshop so see that it has adequate light and ventilation and is equipped to save time and energy. Without extensive remodeling, it is possible to rearrange equipment and storage space for more efficient use. The height of worktables may be adjusted to avoid stooping or stretching. Uncomfortable working heights are one of the major causes for kitchen fatigue.

Sitting to do many kitchen tasks will save energy for other work. Sit whenever you can and maintain good posture while doing so. A job is easier and quicker to do when all the needed tools, equipment and supplies are near at hand. Cooking and baking may be easier if there is enough counter surface at comfortable working heights, and if cooking tools and ingredients are kept at these work centers. The electric mixer that stands in the bottom of the cupboard is not likely to be used so often as the one that is ready for use at the baking center. With the refrigerator, range, and sink almost within arm's reach of the work centers, any homemaker will find she is saving time and energy.

A bulletin giving many suggestions on kitchen arrangement may be obtained without charge, by contacting the Agricultural Extension Ass'n, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 26.—(INS)—

The king of the screen goons, Lon Chaney Jr., plans to invest some of his own money in his next horror pictures.

What's more, he's thought up two new fiendish delights to scare the wits out of his fans.

He isn't saying yet what form the new monsters will take, but he ought to know what he's doing. Lon is the only good man who has played them all, Wolf Man, Frankenstein's Monster, Dracula, The Mummy, and all the rest.

Playing Wolf Man

I talked to Lon at Universal-International. He is currently playing the Wolf Man in "Brains of Frankenstein," which is a combination of horror and comedy, what with Abbott and Costello, Bela Lugosi as Dracula and Glenn Strang as the Frankenstein monster.

"I've been doing these goon roles for 17 years," Lon said, "the fans who like them and there are lots of them line up at the theatres in as big numbers as they ever did."

"That's why I'm anxious to get a piece of my own money into a couple of productions. It's a good investment."

Lon conceded that the goon makeups are tough on a man.

"I have a new wolf man, outfit which I can get on in two hours, which is a big break," he said. "Up to this picture it used to take me six hours. I'd have to get to the studio at 3 a. m."

"Monster" Strang, who had been discussing fishing with "Dracula," spoke up:

"It sure is hard work. I was so tired when I got home last night I slept 12 solid hours. Generally I wake up two or three times during the night and walk around the house."

Comedian Keenan Wynn has just telling me that he and hard-boiled Humphrey Bogart worked together at the Playhouse at Showegan, Maine, in 1934-35.

"I learned a lot from him, too," he added. "I remember one show. I got a lot of laughs in the first act, but the audience didn't tumble at all when my biggest scene came in the second act.

"After the show Bogey asked me if I knew why. I said no, I didn't. Bogey said, 'You were so busy getting laughs in the first act, that they didn't even hear my lines. My lines were the ones which built up your second act scene. You messed it up yourself.'"

Real Headache

The search goes on at Paramount for a little girl for the lead role in "Sorrowful Jones," which 14 years ago brought Shirley Temple to fame as "Little Miss Parker."

I was walking down a studio street the other day when suddenly around the corner came about 50 women with their little girls in tow.

It was the latest batch of hopeful. Out of that bunch the talent director, at best, could make only one find. That would leave 49 to hate him.

"FAVORITE SON"

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 26.—(INS)—Republican state headquarters reported today that signatures of New Jersey delegates-at-large to the Republican national convention in Philadelphia next June have been obtained authorizing the name of Governor Alfred E. Driscoll on the ballot as the "favorite son" candidate for president.

Only 39 per cent of paid positions in the United States are held by women; and where they do the same work as men, they are paid only 60 per cent as much.

Senate Finance Committee Plans For Tax Hearings

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(INS)—The senate finance committee has decided to start hearings next Monday on the Republican-sponsored tax reduction bill and to limit the tax cut to personal income levies.

Sen. Millikin (R) Colo., chairman, declared that the overall tax reduction should be less than the $3 billion dollars a year voted by the house.

Millikin hopeful
Millikin said he was confident that the tax bill as redrafted by his committee would be passed finally by both houses of congress.

He added:
"I am hopeful that it will attract sufficient votes to override a veto if one should occur. In fact, I am hopeful that we can pass a bill that the president will see fit not to veto."

Millikin appealed to the committee during a closed-door session to approve a "conservative" tax cut so that it could easily be defended and would attract "the widest support."

At the same time, he held out some prospect of a reduction in wartime excise levies later.

Millikin declared that if the house should pass a bill dealing with excise taxes it would be handled by his committee provided it could be "reconciled to the surplus situation."

Will Call Snyder
The senator said he could not "conceive of the finance committee hearing on the tax reduction bill running more than two weeks."

He said Secretary of the Treasury Snyder will be the first witness. The committee also decided to rule out consideration of proposals to eliminate the levy on oleomargarine.

Millikin explained, however, that consideration would be given to any administration substitute for the GOP tax cutting measure, or to any counter proposal made by the Democrats.

Bank To Manage Zavada Quads

LATROBE, Pa., Feb. 26.—(INS)—The Zavada quadruplets, just 11 days old today, have a business manager already—a bank.

The Barclay Westmoreland Trust Co. of Greensburg was appointed guardian of the quads Wednesday and will handle all their business affairs. They were born in a Latrobe hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zavada of Dorothy, Pa., early Feb. 15.

Bank Is Guardian
The order, approved by court, appointing the bank as guardian, authorizes it to enter into contracts for "advertising and other purposes" to help finance the rearing and education of the infants.

Several firms, including five baby food manufacturing companies, already are seeking contracts for advertising their products, which the quads will be expected to use.

The infants remained in their incubators in a special nursery in the Latrobe hospital today. All four were reported "progressing."

Duke Of Windsor Cattle Destroyed By Raging Flames

HIGH RIVER, Alta., Feb. 26.—(INS)—A $20,000 fire was reported Wednesday to have destroyed a barn and 24 head of purebred cattle at the famed E-P ranch of the Duke of Windsor at Pikesburg, Alta. Flames, of undetermined origin, broke out and swept rapidly through one large barn.

Only eight of the 32 animals in the barn were led to safety. The remainder of an original 80-head herd, one of the finest in Canada, escaped injury in other barns of the duke's ranch, 25 miles west of High River.

Miami Is Far From Singing Its Swan Song

By RUTH BRIGHAM
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MIAMI, Feb. 26.—Miami is far from singing its swan song as a winter rest, as the tourist barometer today registers jammed hotels, 17 per cent traffic increase and the sweet music of tax revenues ringing in the cash registers.

You can't beat the tax revenues as a measure of the season—and such a wide range of taxes as utilities and cigarettes are above those of a year ago.

A survey by the city shows that hotel and restaurant business is about 10 per cent below last year but well above the last normal pre-war year of 1940. Race track attendance is just about what it was a year ago, but Hialeah reports a $80,000 decrease in the daily pari-mutuels take.

Booked Through April
Joseph Powers, secretary of the Greater Miami Hotel Association reports that all hotels are well-booked through April—with a 25 per cent jump in January, which placed February on a par with the same month last year.

Everybody got the jitters in December and January when business was slow. They said "this is it. Miami is on the way out. They were reckoning without the Gulf-stream, the Miami moon and warm sunshine.

Consensus is that the season will stretch from two weeks to a month longer than usual, running into May this year. Many hotels already have reduced rates and virtually all do so on April first. Chances are those $40 a day rooms are gone permanently.

Increased Travel
Railroads, airlines and bus lines report increased travel into Miami over February of last year.

There is one business which used to be a first-ranker in the Miami area that headed for a nose-dive early this season and never recovered—the night clubs.

Top-billers in the entertainment world appeared at the various clubs this year—but nobody played to a packed house, with the possible exception of sensational Kay Thompson.

Rudy Vallee, who could always depend on a faithful following in other cities during his lengthy career, said he's never played to an emptier house than the Beach-comber this year.

And that just about echoes all those four-figure a week stars whose names sprinkled the billboards.

There are now six recognized varieties of turkeys in the United States, Bronze, Narragansett, White Holland, Bourbon Red, Black and Slate.

Hadassah Chapter Plans For Donor

Arrangements Completed For Annual Affair To Be Held Sunday Evening, March 21

Mrs. Hyman Frank, program chairman, introduced the two speakers who addressed the New Castle chapter of Hadassah, Tuesday evening, at the pre-donor meeting held at Temple Israel at 8:15 o'clock.

As main features of the program, Mrs. Morris Naft, who heads the drama group of the Pittsburgh Hadassah, presented an original dramatic presentation of Henrietta Szold, founder of Hadassah, whose third anniversary of her death was observed. The presentation was delightful and given in costume.

Mrs. Albert Karlin, charming donor chairman of Pittsburgh chapter of Hadassah, in her address before the very well attended audience of local members and guests, emphasized the reasons for the increased quota assigned to all chapters in the country. Hadassah takes complete charge in Palestine of the Immigrant Medical Aid (IMA), which means Mother in Hebrew. Moreover, Mrs. Karlin pointed out that every chapter has been given a 50 per cent additional assessment to meet the present emergency needs in Palestine. She gave an excellent talk, which was well received by the group.

Tuesday evening's meeting was presided over by Mrs. Abe Cohen, president, and the child welfare report was given by Mrs. Irving Nixon, announcing that on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week there will be a rummage sale to help the child welfare fund. Mrs. Pierson Caplan and Mrs. Abe

Kearns One-Man Probe Is Ended

Sub-Committee Extended To Five In Strike In Movie Industry

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. — (INS) — A house labor subcommittee embarked today on a wide open investigation of charges that the Communist party inspired a Hollywood jurisdictional strike as part of a plan to dominate the motion picture industry.

The probe was launched after the chairman, Rep. Fred A. Hartley (R-N.J.), late Thursday expanded the subcommittee from one to five members and ordered the group to look into the allegations of subversive activity.

Initially the investigation into the year-and-a-half-old dispute started as an attempt by Rep. Kearns (R-Pa.), to settle the strike by bringing all the interested parties together to tell their stories and talk the whole thing over.

Kearns was determined to keep the Communist angle out of his investigation because he believed he did not have jurisdiction to cover this phase of the studio dispute.

His activities as a one-man subcommittee were challenged by Rep. Landis (R-Ill.), ranking member of the labor committee. Landis objected when Kearns ruled out of order testimony bearing on the Communist question presented by Matthew M. Levy, counsel for the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees.

Hartley, called in to umpire the clash between his committee members, ordered Kearns to hear all testimony offered by his witnesses. Hartley also added to the subcommittee Landis, and Reps. Owens (R-Ill.), Fisher (D-Tex.), and Woods (D-Ga.).

War-Time Jap Commander Is Still In China

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NANKING, Feb. 26. — (INS) — General Yasutsugu Okamura, war-time commander-in-chief of the Japanese armies in North China, today remains in Nanking as the secluded guests of the Chinese government.

He figures prominently in the subtle web of Oriental politics that in contradiction to the public antagonism between the two countries, binds politically influential Chinese and Japanese together in a complex of personal ties.

Chinese officials avoid discussion of Okamura and hedge in reply to questions as to his status and the reason for his continued presence in the capital.

Permission to interview the 63-year-old former Japanese commander has been denied to American diplomatic and military representatives.

Okamura's address in Nanking has been kept confidential. The writer found him living in a small, foreign style, grey brick house. He is attended by Chinese and one Japanese servant.

Permission to see Okamura without a permit from the Ministry of National Defense was refused through his servants, who said that the former Japanese general does not receive ordinary visitors. Okamura's house is unguarded and he goes for walks alone.

The Chinese government official characterizes Okamura as the liaison officer for repatriation of remnant Japanese troops in China.

In China proper, repatriation of Japanese has actually been completed except for a relatively small number, mainly technicians, who are serving both the government and the Chinese Communists.

Communist Battle On Marshall Plan Brings Apprehension

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. — (INS) — High officials of the United States government viewed with undisguised apprehension today the Communist fight against the Marshall Plan which is spreading along a battle line extending from the Arctic sea to the Dardanelles.

Washington regards the Communist seizure of power in Czechoslovakia and extension of Russian opposition to the Marshall Plan to northern Europe as developments of ominous proportions.

The State Department, desperately anxious to keep abreast of the red moves, admitted that reports from its embassy in Prague were running far behind news dispatches.

The meeting in Oslo of Communist spokesmen from Norway, Denmark, Sweden and Finland who are preparing to create a Nordic "cominform" was a further cause for American alarm.

Permission to interview the 63-year-old former Japanese commander has been denied to American diplomatic and military representatives.

SENATOR TAFT DEFENDS LAW

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. — (INS) — Sen. Robert A. Taft, Republican presidential aspirant, charged today that the Taft-Hartley labor law has forced Communist labor leaders to leave the United States for Canada.

The co-author of the much criticized law, writing in the current issue of Collier's, issued a challenge to labor organizations to specify their objections. He said that CIO and AFL labor leaders are waging bitter attacks against the law, but have never openly mentioned their particular clause they oppose.

Taft asserted that the labor law has decreased strikes and ushered in a period of comparative industrial peace "which is already aiding U. S. economy." Taft's article continued:

"Union leaders whose interest is promoting the welfare of his members has found nothing in the law to interfere with the proper method of negotiating with the employer."

"Hardly a day passes without proving how wrong the law's opponents were in their prediction as to its effects."

French Bathing Suits Are Shorter

Both Sections Of Bathing Suit For 1948 Considerably Abbreviated

By JACQUELINE De MAUDUIT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Feb. 26. — Christian Dior's "Summershop" of bathing suits and beachwear was opened to the public—and the celebrated French designer didn't let his audience down.

Bathing costumes are shorter than ever—with both the upper and lower sections of the two-piece ensembles considerably abbreviated.

Cotton is favored in Dior's beachwear. A particular hit with the audience was a four piece sunsuit, called "Biarritz."

"Biarritz" features a daring two-piece bathing suit of dark green material, accompanied by a skirt and bolero jacket of green and white cotton.

Ample Bohemian cottonskirts to be worn with gaily colored jumpers also were shown.

In the dress department, Dior exhibited striking light twill frocks with spotted overall patterns, set off by a black patent leather belt.

The verdict on the twill dresses was "simple, but smart."

For rainy weather, Dior presented an attractive hooded waterproof beige gabardine coat, lined

PARIS, Feb. 26. — Christian Dior's "Summershop" of bathing suits and beachwear was opened to the public—and the celebrated French designer didn't let his audience down.

Bathing costumes are shorter than ever—with both the upper and lower sections of the two-piece ensembles considerably abbreviated.

Cotton is favored in Dior's beachwear. A particular hit with the audience was a four piece sunsuit, called "Biarritz."

"Biarritz" features a daring two-piece bathing suit of dark green material, accompanied by a skirt and bolero jacket of green and white cotton.

Ample Bohemian cottonskirts to be worn with gaily colored jumpers also were shown.

In the dress department, Dior exhibited striking light twill frocks with spotted overall patterns, set off by a black patent leather belt.

The verdict on the twill dresses was "simple, but smart."

For rainy weather, Dior presented an attractive hooded waterproof beige gabardine coat, lined

Three Are Injured In Odd Accident

Girl Is Struck By Floor Mat Which Flew Out Of Car

Mary L. Russ, aged 10, of 212 East Reynolds street was treated for injuries in the New Castle hospital this morning, received in an odd accident, in which two cars and a truck were involved at 8:20 a. m. today.

Joseph Sniezek, R. D. 1, was driving his auto south on Moravia street, when it was reportedly sideswiped by a truck.

He followed the truck east through Reynolds street to South Mill, where his car collided with that operated by Ralph Webster of Grove City.

Sniezek's car swung around and the trunk was forced open. A floor mat flew out of the car striking the girl who was walking on the sidewalk enroute to school.

In the accident, Sniezek's forehead was cut and Webster's leg was twisted, and he lost the filling in some teeth.

Sniezek was attended at the New Castle hospital where the girl was given medical aid to her right hand and had an X-ray taken of her right arm.

Snowstorm Can Be 'Fingerprinted'

Newly Developed Instrument Records Shapes And Sizes Of Snowflakes

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Feb. 26. (INS)—A new instrument which "fingerprint" a snowstorm, has been developed by weather scientists of the General Electric company's research laboratory.

The instrument, whose existence was announced today, records geometric shapes, sizes and frequency of occurrence of snow crystals falling in the storm.

With the aid of simple mathematics the instrument makes it possible for scientists to count the crystals in a storm. In this way information is obtained about the relative number of fine nuclei in the atmosphere which are necessary to keep a storm "active".

Linked up with other devices, the instrument is helping to determine how brightness of the sky and how the flow of electric current from the atmosphere to the ground are affected by a snowstorm.

The instrument is known as a snow crystal recorder. It is set up in an exposed position in a storm, so that snowflakes fall on a special paper coated with water-soluble dye.

A small amount of heat is applied under the paper, causing the flakes to melt immediately upon contact. Dark blue impressions of the flakes are left on the paper.

When the storm has ended, the instrument has caused the snowflakes to "write a biography" of their short existence. The various "chapters" include how big the flakes were, what kind they were as determined by their shape, how densely they fell, and how long the storm itself lasted.

Aim At Codifying Of State Vehicle And Tractor Laws

Special Legislative Committee Aims To Codify Laws Into Single Statute

HARRISBURG, Feb. 26.—(INS)—A special legislative committee aimed to codify Pennsylvania's motor vehicle and tractor codes in a single statute.

The joint state government commission's committee on the study and revision of the motor vehicle and tractor code will present its findings to the 1949 general assembly for approval.

Rep. Samuel B. Dennison (R) Jefferson, chairman of the 12-member committee, explained that the motor code has not been revised since its passage 20 years ago.

Codify All Laws
"The committee has determined to codify in one statute all the vehicle laws embraced in the code of 1929 and the 48 amendments approved since its passage," he said. Dennison said the committee has studied:

A proposal to require all traffic to halt at points where school buses are loading or discharging school children; a uniform speed limit for all vehicles; regulations for pedestrian traffic as recommended by the national committee on uniform traffic laws and ordinances.

Further development of driver training programs in high schools; permanent registration plates for vehicles; enforcement of the finanial responsibility law for motorists, passed by the general assembly but postponed; the right of local police officers to arrest on sight without the formality of a summons; and fixing an effective date for the law—now suspended—establishing uniform traffic signals and eliminating overhead traffic lights.

Mr. Carpenter outlined the functions of the Department of Commerce, and told of the background and development of the department.

He explained the various services which the department offers to business and industry, and the ways in which it can help them in conducting their business. His talk was a revelation to many who had just given the department a passing thought, and looked upon it as just another governmental bureau.

Retaliatory Plan Is Considered By Southern Governors

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(INS)—A move to line up "un-instructed" presidential electors who could deny their votes to President Truman materialized as a major weapon in the Southern Democratic revolt.

A Southern congressional leader disclosed that four of the five protesting Dixie governors are "in complete accord" on the plan of retaliatory action if the party does not abandon the Truman civil rights program.

It was reported that Gov. Tuck of Virginia, one of the five who were rebuffed by National Party Chairman McGrath, will set the pattern for individual state action.

Tuck was expected today to send a message to the state legislature recommending a change in law which would make it possible for Virginia electors to be selected without instruction and giving the state democratic organization authority to designate the choice.

Because of the tight control in Virginia by the democratic organization, it was predicted that Tuck's recommendation will be adopted "overwhelmingly" as a sign of "disaffection with the party leadership."

Gov. Cherry of N. C. was the only member of the protest delegation who did not commit himself to the method of action. The majority of four however made it apparent that the plan will be recommended to the conference of Southern governors next month if the civil rights program is not killed.

Observance Of Army Day Mapped

Local Citizens Hear Army Officer Explain Purposes Of Army Day Celebration

RICHARD E. RENTZ HEADS COMMITTEE

At a luncheon meeting, held in the Castleton, Wednesday noon, plans were outlined for the observance of Army Day here on Tuesday, April 6, and a local committee was organized, with Richard E. Rentz, chairman of the army advisory board, as the chairman of the executive committee, which will sponsor the observance.

Plans along which the observance here will be carried out will be definitely determined at a later meeting of the committee. The need for an Army Day program to acquaint residents of the local community with the importance of the army, and also to honor those who gave their lives in defense of their country, was outlined by Major T. W. Green, public relations officer, of the Second Army Corps, stationed at Pittsburgh.

Need Better Understanding Major Green stated that it is our country and our army, and a better understanding of the military setup of the nation will enable people to know more about what is going on within the army, and its need in the present era, in which war could come as easily as it did at Pearl Harbor, but with much greater destructive force. Moscow, he stated, is only seven hours away by fast bombing planes.

While it was not definitely decided upon, just what shape the local celebration will take, it was indicated that it would likely be a dinner or luncheon meeting, with a ranking officer as speaker.

The luncheon meeting was arranged by the local U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Office, and among those who were in attendance, in addition to interested local citizens, and members of the recruiting staff, included: Col. Milo B. Gagesa, Capt. Clarence McGilone, Capt. W. H. James, Capt. L. P. Sturm, Capt. P. F. Adamo, and First Lieut. Ernest DeJoseph, the latter two of whom are from this city, representing the Organized Reserve Corps. Capt. Sturm is recruiting officer for the local district, with offices in Pittsburgh.

Louis Cohen, director of music in the Hickory township schools, has left no stone unturned to make the event one of the most outstanding occasions in the history of the school and to insure the comfort and safety of the be told why food is so high, too much overhead, why should the food merchant worry with all this distribution, figures, manufactures, profits, packers, taxes, wholesalers and supervisors. I do not consider profit for myself when figuring the cost of merchandise. Only enough to pay the help and by a little gas. When you figure in overhead it only eats up profit (if any) and runs the cost of foods too high for my customers. So why bother. No wonder customers come in and wonder how I can sell at such low prices. Did you ever notice how quickly prices in the stores can be hiked up when there is an advance. They don't say much about saving you money on what they had on hand. Funny business always saving (you) (R) money.

Hope you have noticed how smoothly our meat is cut and how well the bones and fat are covered up—it always looks so good. In fact we do sell some good meat with the bones. Always like to leave a little bone and fat in for the flavor. This is an exclusive feature. I employ the finest artists to cut and handle the meat. That insures longer cooking time and no danger of it falling apart or melting in your mouth.

I will have a few Swifts Premium Hams for sale on Friday. None sold on Saturday as Swifts were unable to find enough Premium pigs that were willing to die for them.

You should have no trouble finding a place to spend your money if its food. I can give you some good leads. Don't all come here though—I always like to divide my business up.

I hope I do not need to tow any cars out of customers parking lot. As you know this is for customers at Brennenman's Market only. So don't try to sneak in unless your conscience is clear.

I will have to check on the prices in the paper to get the price of Oleo. My price will be less, or more, probably higher.

Two Soldiers Are Faced With Grave Charges

Take Plane Flight Over Andes
Just For Fun, Neither
Qualified Pilots

BALBOA, C. Z., Feb. 26.—(INS)—Two GI's, neither a qualified pilot, who took an Army Flying Fortress on a 1,700-mile joyride over the Andes, are being held in an Army guardhouse today.

Both men—Master Sgt. Glen Woods of Muncie, Ind., and Staff Sgt. Theodore Havens, Jr., of Washington, N. J.—face court-martial and a possible five-year prison sentence for misappropriating Army property.

The two were taken to the Canal Zone last night from Caracas, Venezuela, where they landed after a hazardous flight from an Army airfield in the Galapagos Islands.

Woods explained: "We did it for fun."

All New To Them
A veteran of Eighth Air Force missions over Germany during the war, Woods flew the huge B-17 on instruments over the jagged peaks in a night flight. Woods, an experienced crew chief who was taken captive by the Germans when shot down, had never flown a fortress before.

Havens, a veteran of Fifth Air Force fighting in New Guinea, is a radio operator. But he managed to navigate the giant aircraft by means of the radio compass.

Both swore that their flight to Caracas was not connected with present Venezuelan political unrest. They said they planned to fly as far as Trinidad and surrender to the MP's at the army air base there.

Beer Makers Get New Ultimatum From Government

Face Choice Of Accepting Proposal By Anderson Or Compulsory Control

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(INS)—Beer makers faced a choice today between a proposal by Agriculture Secretary Anderson for a voluntary grain saving program and compulsory controls.

There were indications that the brewers would go along with Anderson's plan which calls for a ban on the use of wheat and table grades of rice in beer making.

The industry last fall complied with a similar request by the old citizens' food committee, headed by Charles Luckman.

If even the brewers reject the proposed new plan, President Truman can ask Congress under the Taft anti-inflation act for authority to regulate grain use in breweries.

Will Save Grain
This has been done in the case of the liquor-making industry. Distillery grain consumption legislation, once rejected by the house banking committee, now is pending in the senate.

The new program for beer manufacturers reportedly will save three million bushels a year of corn, oats and other scarce grains.

The plan, however, would allow the brewers to use up to five per cent more malted barley each month than they consumed in the corresponding period last year.

Another feature of the new plan calls for a 15 per cent cut in the use of all other grains in a month-by-month comparison with last year.

Hope Grows For Settlement Of Taxi Cab Strike

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 26.—(INS)—Hope grew today for a settlement of the 12-day-old strike of 1,100 Yellow Cab taxi drivers in Pittsburgh as negotiations reopened.

Yesterday, a three-hour meeting between representatives of the Yellow Cab company and the union ended on a friendly basis. It was the first meeting since the company submitted an offer to the union that it would negotiate some of the issues in dispute if the union made concessions on some other issues affecting management control.

The company also had refused to submit all issues to arbitration. Late this week or early next week the members of the union, AFL Taxi Drivers Union, Local 128, will start drawing their strike benefits of approximately $10 a week from the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, their parent union.

Search Reveals Four Miners Dead

PIKEVILLE, Ky., Feb. 26.—(INS)—The bodies of four miners were found today in a small mine at Betsy Lane near Pikeville, Kentucky.

The men, the only ones employed in the mine, failed to return from work last night. Their wives became alarmed and started a search for them. The bodies were discovered about 50 feet inside the mine entrance. Cause of their deaths was not immediately determined.

State Mine Inspector Eddie Howe of Paintsville supervised the removal of the bodies. He would make no comment on the deaths.

The four victims were listed as: Archie B. Layne; Raymond Gobel; Gene Blackburn and Junior Mole.

The most gorgeous of the trogon birds is the quetzal of Central America.

Cost Of Living Index Rose To Highest Point

State Department of Labor Makes Report For Final Quarter of 1947

By JACK WARD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 26.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's cost of living index rose to its highest point in history during the final quarter of 1947.

The department of labor and industry reported today that soaring costs of "practically all living essentials" sent the index to 162.5 per cent of the June, 1941, figure during December. The peak figure represented a gain from September of 1.7 per cent in retail prices of commodities and services purchased by lower-income families in 16 representative cities.

"All Items" Index

The "all items" index was 9.4 per cent higher than a year ago and 69.6 per cent above September 1939, the department said.

Food prices climbed one per cent for the quarter and 12.3 per cent for the year, boosting the food index to 199.1 per cent of the June, 1941, base figure.

Clothing prices edged upward 1.5 per cent during the quarter and 8.5 per cent over December, 1946, the agency reported. A steady rise in the cost of men's, women's and children's shoes "contributed greatly" to the advance, it added.

In the final three-month period of 1947 prices of house furnishings increased 2.9 per cent and at the end of the year stood 9.9 per cent above the index of December a year ago.

Rents Advanced

At the same time, residential rents continued to advance, gaining 3.3 per cent over September and 4.7 per cent over the final month of 1946.

The department said the fuel, light and refrigeration index advanced 1.5 per cent to 131.5 of the June, 1941, figure.

The gains were attributed chiefly to higher prices for anthracite and bituminous coal and fuel oil in nearly all cities surveyed.

Increased prices of automobiles, tires and soap products boosted the miscellaneous goods and services index 2.1 per cent above September to 136.6 per cent, the department said.

Says Increases In Basic Steel Prices Deferred

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—(INS)—

The magazine Iron Age said that increases in basic steel prices have been deferred pending clarification of widespread hysteria over the boost in semi-finished steel products.

The magazine said whether or not major steel mills advance prices on sheet and strip steel remains to be seen. It said that non-integrated steelmakers have or soon will advance prices on cold rolled and some grades of specialty steel.

Iron Age pointed out that since no major steel producer had raised its prices on sheets and strip, consumers of these products will now be paying three different prices.

The magazine said that it is so secret that several steel price in-

Weak, Watery Blood Blamed for Making Men and Women Look and Feel Older

THAN THEIR YEARS

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old-time pep and drive lacking? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now regain their vigor, good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, nerve, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by post-mortem proof shown that 888 Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional cases. This is due to the 888 Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 888 Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with 888 Tonic. Start on 888 Tonic now. As vigorous blood courses throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your cheeks and feel like you are better than ever before. Get a bottle from your drug store. 888 Tonic helps build sturdy health.

Rationing May End In Sweden

Swedes See Ray Of Light On Food Front For Lifting
Rationing

BREAD AND SUGAR MAY BE AFFECTED

By NED NORDNESS
(U. S. A. Staff Correspondent)
STOCKHOLM, Feb. 26.—Swedes see a ray of light on the food front. If crops are as good as indicated now, rationing of bread and sugar will be eliminated in another four to five months.

This is almost sensational in Sweden where rationing has been in effect since the beginning of the war. The government held to rationing after the war, despite much criticism. With the fat situation slowly stabilizing on the international front, Swedish consumers are assured an adequate supply of this important commodity, also.

Meat Rationing To Continue
Meat rationing, however will continue. There was great hue and cry last fall when the government continued rationing of meat while shops swelled to bursting point with selections of fine cuts.

The bountiful supply then was the result of increased slaughter of livestock due to an exceedingly dry summer that burned grazing lands and limited the harvest in hay and grain.

The ministry of supply asserts there would have been a shortage today of some 40,000,000 kilograms had authorities heeded critics and done away with rationing.

Norway put meat on the free list following increased slaughter but it is still a commodity that is spoken of wistfully in Norwegian circles.

The textile and leather position is good and the government has announced there will be no rationing of either clothes or shoes.

American consumer goods are disappearing from formerly well-supplied stocks. Even normally wealthy Sweden is facing a foreign exchange crisis and has stopped almost entirely the purchase of American consumer goods.

Some Other Shortages
But optimistic as the food front appears on the whole, there are other shortages. The average Swede might just as well put his automobile in the garage because no gasoline is being sold to the public and as soon as government wheels have turned, he'll get only enough to use for business pursuits.

That goes for his motorcycle, too and if he spends his summers zig-zagging in a motorboat around the maze of islands that make up the Stockholm Archipelago he can just as well realize right now that his gasoline-burning water vehicle is a luxury he won't indulge in this coming summer.

He already has learned that luxury goods and pleasures are expensive as from about a month back. His cigarettes (American cigarettes will be a thing of the past by mid-March) go up in very expensive smoke and his liquor practically clinks in gold as it streams down his throat.

There is a very mild blackmarket in some scarce items—coffee, tea, eggs, out of season, meat, sugar and liquor—but with the exception of coffee and tea the shady price is very little above the ceiling mark.

The government tried to stamp out the blackmarket in meat (some 10 per cent of all meat sold in Sweden in 1947 came from the blackmarket) by appointing animal inspectors in each community.

The farmers boycotted this government move, however, as an attack upon their integrity. Which it was.

Drive slow—children move fast.

Seek To Prevent Alcoholism Spread By State Clinics

HARRISBURG, Feb. 26.—(INS) —Spokesmen for the liquor industry and temperance groups today recommended to a legislative committee studying alcoholism that clinics be established for treatment of chronic drinkers with funds from operation of the state liquor monopoly.

But they disagreed on a method of establishing a treatment program during a meeting with the committee, a sub-group of the joint State Government Commission.

Seek Prevention

Mrs. A. F. Leonard, of Pittsburgh, vice president of the State Women's Christian Temperance Union, and Dr. George F. Dunkleberger, of Selinsgrove, head of the Pennsylvania School on Alcohol Studies, told the committee both groups are interested in "prevention rather than cure" of alcoholism.

They recommended treatment at clinics separate from hospitals.

Bertram J. Murphy, of Reading, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Fraternal and Social Organizations, said the clinics should be set up in established hospitals and institutions.

Some occupations are particularly apt to develop faulty vision; 75 percent of all U. S. garment workers have vision trouble.

Film Producer For Navy Found Dead In Hotel

Seek Slayer With Knowledge Of Ancient Chinese Strangle
Torture Methods

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—(INS)—New York police sought a thief with knowledge of ancient Chinese torture methods today as the slayer of Harvey Haerberle, navy film producer found strangled to death in a hotel.

Haerberle, 35, was a civilian employee of the Anacostia Naval Station in Washington, where he supervised production of recruiting movies.

Torture Method
Detectives said Haerberle was tied with strips of sheet in a method used for centuries by the Chinese to torture victims to death.

The film producer's hands and feet were tied behind him with the strips and his belt. Another piece of sheet was knotted around his neck.

A chain strip at his back linked the three separate bonds in such a way that the slightest movement would tighten the strip around his neck and strangle him.

Looks Like Robbery
"It looks like robbery," said Police Commissioner Wallander after taking personal charge of the case.

Haerberle's wallet was missing, his suit case broken open and his personal papers strewn around the room, which police described as looking "as if a cyclone had struck it."

Although he was travelling on Navy business, naval officials said he carried no documents in which security was involved.

Temple Israel Friday Services

Sabbath services at Temple Israel will be conducted Friday evening at 8 o'clock with Dr. Iwan J. Gruen in charge of services.

His sermon topic for the evening is "Dancing Around the Golden Calf."

In 1946 the United States Army Air Forces and the Navy agreed to the joint adoption of the knot as the standard aeronautical mile as the corresponding units of distance. A nautical mile, approximately 6,080 feet, is the distance covered by one minute of arc at the equator.

Career Day For Sophomore Class

Vocational Interest Groups Consult With Business Men And Women Of City

First of the career days for sophomores at senior high school modeled along the lines of the senior career days previously carried out at the senior high school as part of the vocational guidance program on Tuesday was featured by discussion groups each led by a vocational counselor.

All the counselors were business men and women of the city, nine of them themselves alumni of Ne-C-Hi.

Vocational Advisors
Fifteen groups interested in as many different vocations met in the sophomore home rooms at the high school with the following as counselors: architecture, James J. Stevenson; art, Otto Pearsall; aviation, George Horschler; beautician, Miss Myrtle Dittmer; bookkeeping, Crawford Lyons; building trades, C. Hotchkiss; engineering, Paul G. Dingley; law, Herman Green; machinist, Joseph Lockley; medicine, Dr. Joseph E. Ginsberg; nursing, Miss Helen Wilson; selling, Mrs. Hattie Reitz; social work, Mrs. Louise McConnell; stenography, Miss Helen Keder; telephone, Miss Mary Kiefer.

Teachers introduce counselors. The speakers, who consulted with the various groups, were introduced by the sophomore home room teachers. In talking with the students about the qualifications necessary for success in the various vocational fields, the counselors in turn received many suggestions of value to the faculty advisors.

Miss Dorothy Young was in charge of arrangements for career day.

At the present time the sophomores are taking Kuder interest tests, aptitude tests having been given last year.

On Friday, all students who have expressed a wish to take shorthand during the coming school year will take shorthand aptitude tests given by Elmer O. Delancy, public school psychologist. And students who wish to elect shorthand will be counseled on the results of the test.

Home room teachers are beginning to consult with students about their elective courses for the coming school year and parents who are interested in having an appointment to talk over their children's courses are urged to call Mrs. Norman P. Nelson, supervisor of the vocational guidance program at senior high school. Their interest in asking for a conference is cordially invited, Mrs. Nelson stressed.

Navy Will Buy Training Planes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(INS)—A high aviation source disclosed today that the navy is planning to buy a large number of Lockheed P-80 Shooting Stars—the air force's operational fighter—to be used as trainers.

The navy has not yet announced its contemplated purchase, as all arrangements for an order for "less than 100" Shooting Stars have not been completed, and the deal might still fall for one reason or another.

Brothers KO's Speedy Williams In Second Round

Johnny Izzo Decisions Keane; Newkirk Loser

One thousand and ninety seven fans paid $1,864.50, last night to see New Castle's dynamic puncher, Elkins Brothers, score a knockout over Speedy Williams of Pittsburgh, in the second round of a pro fight listed for eight chapters. Last Evening's Evening was a success, both from a fight and financial viewpoint.

The end came in one minute, and 10 seconds, of the second stanza. Brothers forced the fighting, and suddenly unleashed a right which landed on the point of Williams' chin. He went down, took a count of nine, then got up. Brothers swarmed all over Speed, drove him to the ropes, put a left hook to the stomach, then delivered a vicious right to the chin.

The punch felled Williams who laid length-ways for several seconds then started to get up. However, Referee Mike Hogan counted off 10 seconds before he was up and ruled it a knockout. Williams substituted for Jeff Clanton of Buffalo, who was injured while at work. Up to the time of the first knockdown, the fight was fast.

New Fight Went

Elkins followed with a right to the back of the head then missed a right aimed for the chin, but came back with a left to the body. Williams jabbed his left to the face and Brothers' left landed on the rear of Williams' head. Brothers put a left to the body, then missed a right lead for the chin when he had Williams on the ropes, ending the round.

The second round started with Williams hooking a left to the head, and sending a right uppercut to the heart. He tried, but missed a left cross for the chin, received a light jab on the face, then took another left jab to the same place. Brothers forced the fighting and hit Williams with a right on the chin that dumped him for a count of nine.

Goos for K. O.
When Williams got up, Brothers went in for the kill, swarming all over the head taller, and rangy Williams. He forced him to the ropes, where he landed a terrific left hook to the stomach and followed with a dynamic right to the chin that dropped Williams, who laid length-ways for several seconds. He started to get up, but was not up when the referee tolled 10, and the arbiter ruled it a knockout.

Johnny Izzo, Mahoningtown's rugged middleweight, scored a six round decision over Julian Keene of Washington, in a fast and good six round semi-final. Keene was the better boxer but Izzo's aggressiveness and heavier punches won him two of the three votes. The

CHARLES AIMING AT TWO TITLES

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 26.—(INS)—Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati light-heavyweight, not only is going to continue fighting, but he hopes to work his way up to two titles. Jake Mintz, valuable manager of the young title contender whose opponent died in a Chicago ring last Friday night said:

"I talked to Ezzard by telephone today, and he said he not only intended to go on and win the light-heavyweight title, but also wants to try for the heavyweight championship."

Charles had said after the death of 20-year-old Sam Baroudi he didn't want to fight again. Later Baroudi's father (his real name was Sam Crandall) told Charles the death was only an accident, to keep on fighting.

Pirates Off To California

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 26.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, with a different manager at the helm for the third consecutive year, today were en route for their spring training base at Santa Monica, California.

The first contingent of Bucs left Pittsburgh for Chicago last night. In the Windy City they will pick up more teammates and others will join the group at different places along the way.

When spring training officially gets underway March 1, all but one of the Pirates will be on hand. The lone exception is Fred (Dixie) Walker. The veteran outfielder, obtained from the National League champs, the Brooklyn Dodgers, has announced that pressing personal business at home will not permit him to report until about March 9.

General Manager Roy Hamey and Manager Billy Meyer already are in Santa Monica.

Duca D'Abruzzi Meeting Tonight

Tonight at the club rooms of the organization there will be a final meeting of the Duca D'Abruzzi baseball and golf teams of 1947. The purpose of the meeting, scheduled for 8 o'clock, is to clear up some of remaining matters of the past year and discuss the presentation of jackets to the teams. The meeting will be short and all those concerned are asked to attend and bring with them any uniforms and equipment they may have not yet turned in.

KRAMER WINS AGAIN
DENVER, Feb. 26.—(INS)—Jack Kramer outplayed Bobby Riggs, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3 in their exhibition tennis match last night in Denver. The victory increased Kramer's lead on the professionals' current tour, 22 to 15.

Some Money Pressure Behind Yankee Deal

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Hints and innuendoes rose up in the night like a sinister little something from Poe's Chamber Wall, to suggest today the New York Yankees drove a hard bargain in getting Pitcher Al Lopat from the Chicago White Sox.

No dirty work at the double-cross roads, of course. Nothing crude or indelicate. Just, they say, old routine of polite commercial pressure, whereby the strong club, with money, can exact its will upon the weak club, with next to none. Plenty Of Moala

One claim, insistently presented, was that the White Sox financed their 1948 training trip to Pasadena from the swag they presumably drew down—in addition to a couple of minor league pitchers and a second-rate catcher. Another claim, equally articulate, was that the Lopat deal had been closed over the protest of Manager Ted Lyons.

It seems that he spent so much of his time at the recent baseball meetings, recalling one and all the claim that the one thing he had was the best dangled left hander in baseball, namely, Al Lopat; that being so he'd hardly feel he was getting his money's worth in taking title to the following gents: Left Hander Bill Wright, who hasn't been able to stay in the American league; Right-Hander Fred Bradley, unable as yet to get there.

Also Catcher Aaron Robinson, who got there several seasons ago but early exhibited certain flaws and trends not usually associated with major-league, so to say. Lopat Good Pitcher

The claim, of course, at both the New York and Chicago ends was that money didn't figure in the transaction. But unprejudiced sources—out of respect for the commercial acumen of Ted Lyons and General Manager Lennie M. O'Connor—took this to mean no money after the first $50,000.

Lopat, a two-year 2.73 and 2.81 earned-run guy who has beaten Cleveland 13 times in 15 games, was a plain "steal" at the money—since he's commonly believed to have underwritten another pennant at the Yankee stadium. But the Yanks are said to have dealt sharply throughout on the shrewd suspicion that they had the one thing the White Sox needed more than Lopat. And apparently they knew what they were about.

Fresno St. is playing its basketball season under a new coach, Cornelius Warmerdam, world pole-vault record-holder and former Bulldog cage star.

Gino Buonovino Next Champion?

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—(INS)—Gino Buonovino, if that is the way you spell it, is convinced he is going to be the second heavyweight champion of the world from Italy. The first was, of course, Primo Carnera.

Gino has won 10 fights and boxed to a draw in 11 starts in this country, and next time around meets Joe Baksi on March 19 at Madison Square Garden.

Only 24 Years Old
Nobody has paid much attention to this 24-year-old youngster from Bari and Lucca, Italy, up to now. In fact, I may be the first here with to report that he was born in Bari but has lived in Lucca since he was five years old.

He now lives in the Bronx, New York, U.S.A., and he is seeking to become a citizen. The big trouble with Gino is that he can't punch a nickel's worth. He boxes well, leaps around with alacrity believing his 196 pounds, takes a punch and keeps throwing gloves from all angles.

Couldn't Hurt Canary
But he couldn't hurt a sleeping canary bird if he took a full wind-up and let go with the hardest wallop he has to offer.

He can't speak a word of English and he is a little deaf, but he has never been knocked out in more than 300 bouts, and he has everything all figured out. At least his interpreter explained it that way.

Suppose Gino beats Baksi, and he probably will for two reasons, viz:

1—Baksi never could fight even when he was at his peak.
2—He has blown up into a fat heavyweight who probably can't even get into shape again.

So Gino wins that one, and Joe Louis retires whether he wins or loses with Joe Walcott in June. Fantastic as it may seem, a guy named Gino is the outstanding contender for the heavyweight championship of the world.

This doesn't mean that Gino is a great fighter, but neither is Walcott and Louis isn't either any more.

Since 1900, 19 major league managers have won the pennant in their first year with their club.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

BROW-SHOOTERS will descend upon the Hillville area Friday evening, to dispatch black marauders, thus aiding the game and farm situation here this summer. It is sincerely hoped there is no premature discharge of guns such as occurred at the last rookery attack. According to President Herman Steinbrink and George Bolinger of sportsmen's organization the attackers are to meet at the overpass on Route 224, at Hillville, at 7 p. m. Friday. They will receive instructions as to how to proceed. . . . When Don Free defeated Paddy Grimes in the Golden Gloves tournament he did so on a split decision, according to Eddie Yarosz, brother of Ted, ex-middleweight cham., of Monaca. . . . Billy Pozza, Ellwood City Thunderbolt, battles Eddie Cross of Pittsburgh, in a four-rounder at Pittsburgh's Aragon gardens tonight. . . . Shenango Valley Beagle men will meet at 2 p. m. Sunday at their Volant club house, according to Secretary John Greer. Arrangements will be completed for the Towell trophy trial which will feature 13 and 15 inch AA Beagles. The members will also further plans for their banquet at Sylvan Heights club house, March 6.

And now that trout fishing is not far distant, it might be well for the fisherman to look to his tackle, laid away since last fall. This means that all fly lines that mean anything to their owner, must be removed from reels and placed in loose coils in a storage box. The flies should get a good going over, a droopy misused fly will get a lift from a steam bath over the spout of a tea kettle and look nearly like new. Then all flies should be stored in a mothproof container, with some sort of moth crystals to keep out the insects. Next the fly rods or any bamboo tackle should be put in good condition, that means new guides or windings where necessary or perhaps a whole varnish job for the entire stick. When the opening day for trout season comes to you, you won't have last minute repairs to get done before you can go fishing. All this work done in advance, saves the grey hairs for a later date. Make sure that your bait casting lures, better known as plugs, have the hooks in good shape, not rusty or dull. A great number of lures have bow come from the manufacturer with points that are not very sharp. It is always a good idea to see that they are sharpened before you do put them to use, says the Pennsylvania Angler.

Pitt Trustees To Meet Friday

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 26.—(INS)—A meeting of the board of trustees of the University of Pittsburgh is scheduled for Friday in an attempt to straighten out the school's athletic mixup that has seen, among other things, two fact-finding committees turn in completely contradictory reports.

Dr. Rufus H. Fitzgerald, chancellor of the University, called the meeting which will be secret. Athletic Director Jim Hagan and football Coach Walter (Mike) Milligan, the two main personalities involved in the latest Pitt sports ruckus, both said that they have not been invited to attend.

Pitt's inability to win football games, with the toughest schedule in the land and using de-emphasized players, brought about the appointment of a temporary committee to study the situation and render a report. In addition, the faculty committee on athletic policy would also study the situation and report.

WVU BEATS PREKES
MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Feb. 26.—(NS)—The University of West Virginia's basketball team today had evened an old score and also was still in the running for a possible post-season basketball tournament berth. The old score, an earlier season defeat at the hands of Washington & Jefferson, was settled last night as the Mountaineers trampled the Presidents 73-52 before a crowd of 6,300 people at the West Virginia gym.

The win was the 14th against three losses this season for the ABC titles. From 1899 to 1923 he won more medals than any two men opposing him.

BABE ZAHARIAS SEEKING ENTRY IN MEN'S GOLF

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—(INS)—Mildred (Babe) Zaharias, holder at one time or another of virtually all major women's golf championships, has filed formal entry for the men's national open to be played next June at the Riviera Golf club, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Zaharias, who won the British women's title last summer, then turned professional, hopes to be permitted to be the first woman ever to participate in the men's open.

United States Golf Association officials have refused to indicate what their attitude will be, pending receipt of her entry.

Exiled Europeans Say France, Italy Next Red Targets

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(INS)—Two European leaders in exile warned today that France and Italy may be the next targets of Communists as most officials in Washington took the view that Czechoslovakia must be written off as another lost battle in the so-called "cold war."

Former Hungarian Premier Ferenc Nagy and George Dimitroff, Bulgarian peasant party leader, who were forced to leave their homelands because of the Communists, said the Reds may attempt to "take over" Italy before the April elections and set off a reign of terror in France. At the same time, Nagy reported that President Benes has become a virtual "prisoner" as a result of the Red coup in Czechoslovakia.

Their comments were made as the Czech operation was watched with intense interest in the American capital. But the general feeling about the State department is that it is too late to do anything to meet the situation.

GIRL SCOUTS

Highland Troop 31
The meeting of troop 31 on Tuesday was opened with repeating of the Girl Scout promise. After singing several songs and rounds the troop divided to go to their several patrols. Work in the patrols was as follows: Centerpieces were brought by Nancy Reebel, Patty Winkler and Delores Kolumie who are working on their second class badge. The patrols are also working on toy stuffed rabbits.

The Pocahontas patrol members were finishing their hostess badge starting on the child care badge. Today they were describing games for small children to play.

Those in the Wild Rose patrol who were working on the tree finder badge were sketching trees.

Gene Stump and Eddie Ehlers of the Boston Celtics of the Basketball Association of America, wear contact lenses playing.
